In Faculty Controversy

Teacher Association Calls For More Sweeping Probe

The East Liverpool Teachers Association has called for a more sweeping investigation into the faculty controversy here.

Meeting Thursday afternoon at Westgate School, members of the ELTA voted almost unanimously for a committee of the Ohio Education Association to conduct a preliminary investigation here "to properly survey the . . . controversy."

The association statement released this morning said: "It is the feeling of the membership that a more thorough investigation is needed than the one proposed by the administration, especially since the investigators expected in East Liverpool next week will serve mainly as consultants."

JAMES MARTIN, a member of the board of directors of the ELTA, said it is the feeling of the group that the investigation due to start Monday by a team of educators from Columbus, including members of the Ohio Association of School Administrators, the Ohio High School Athletic Association and the Ohio School Board Association, "will be administration orientated and will not really get to the problem that exists."

"Whether the problem is the administration, the board of education or the East Liverpool Teachers Association," Martin said, "the Professional Rights and Responsibility Committee of the OEA would delve deep enough to find out who is responsible."

Supt. Paul Blair said this morning the investigation next week will be conducted at a "neutral place." The team will not set up headquarters at his office. Possible places have been discussed, but will not be determined until the men arrive Monday.

THE CONTROVERSY came to a head when Clinton McConnell, head basketball coach, and other cage coaches submitted their resignations, with the "Big 8" basketball preview scheduled to be held here on Nov. 23 being canceled.

On Nov. 22, the students were sent home because more than half of the faculty staff reported off ill. In an effort to resume classes, the resignations of the basketball coaches were withdrawn. Then, on the following Tuesday, Robert McNea, head football coach and athletic director, and about 11 other coaches resigned.

The board has refused to act on the resignations until after a report is received from next week's investigation.

Hatched By Israel To Stir Unrest

Phony Plot To Overthrow Nasser Reported In Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian intelligence has uncovered a phony plot to overthrow President Gamal Abdel Nasser which was hatched by Israel to create unrest in Egypt, a Cairo newspaper said today.

The report is the latest in a series of Egyptian reports of Israeli espionage activities. Earlier this week Nasser announced that a former prisoner of war released by Israel incited the recent student demonstrations in Alexandria. He said another agent was caught trying to leave the country with classified information and microfilms.

The newspaper Al Gumhurriya said various sources abroad leaked information to the Egyptians that 30 army officers, identified by name and rank, and a number of civilians were conspiring to stage a military coup against Nasser.

The newspaper said careful investigation of the alleged plot revealed that it was a hoax fabricated by the Isralis to foment unrest in the country. Names of the alleged conspirators were selected from daily obituaries in Egyptian newspapers, Al Gumhurriya said.

The semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said details of several spy cases will be made public within the next few days, but others will be kept secret to prevent the Israelis from learning how much the Egyptian government has found out.

Al Ahram said Israeli espionage appears to be focusing on Egyptian naval secrets, particularly since the sinking of an Israeli destroyer by Egyptian missiles last year. The newspaper said Israel has been employing crew members of foreign vessels arriving in Alexandria and contacts with foreign visitors to Egypt.

Meanwhile, former Gov. William W. Scranton arrived in

Santa Leaves Tricycle For Ailing Boy, 9

Santa Claus left a brand new gold and white tricycle Thursday at the Mulberry St. home of little Paul McCraw, 9, who entered Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh Tuesday afternoon for treatment of an obscure disease that threatens to take his life.

The 36-pound boy, dwarfed by the disease to the size of a 3-year-old, said he had only one request of Santa Claus—a tricycle. About a half a dozen East Liverpool residents responded to the plea yesterday, but Santa Claus got there first.

Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McCraw of 465½ Mulberry St., said the tricycle will be taken to his room in Children's Hospital later if physicians approve.

He was to be taken to a Veterans Administration Hospital in Pittsburgh today for treatment with an artificial kidney machine that will cleanse his blood. His kidneys have started to fail as a result of the rare disease, which shows many of the symptoms associated with leukemia. If his health permits, and a donor is available, he may receive a kidney transplant.

Doctors told the family he must be treated by the artificial kidney machine before he has a

Rocket, Mortar Attacks

Enemy Guns Pound Allied Bases, Towns

27 Killed, 104 Hurt In South Viet

Heaviest Assaults Since Bombing Halt Of North Nov. 1

SAIGON (AP)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shelled 37 allied bases and South Vietnamese towns Thursday night and early Friday in the heaviest rash of such attacks since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1, military spokesmen reported today.

The spokesmen said from 300 to 400 mortar and rocket rounds were fired. A total of 27 South Vietnamese were reported killed and 104 wounded in the shellings and in three terrorist attacks.

The majority of the rocket and mortar attacks came in an arc northwest to north of Saigon. Enemy troops in that area also rampaged through a hamlet, killing 11 persons, wounding another 22 and burning 25 houses despite the presence of thousands of American and South Vietnamese troops in nearby areas.

It took South Vietnamese reinforcements two hours to move less than two miles to the aid of the lightly defended hamlet, which is 60 miles north of Saigon and just outside the heavily defended provincial capital of An Loc.

By the time the reinforcements arrived, the attackers had pulled out and their casualties, if any, were not known. A government spokesman in Saigon said he did not know the reason for the delay in reinforcing the hamlet, which was defended by 30 militiamen.

Five of the rocket and mortar attacks were within one to four miles of An Loc, against U.S. Air Cavalrymen in night bivouac, South Vietnamese infantrymen and the An Loc district headquarters.

The American Command also announced that two U.S. helicopters were shot down within 10 miles of An Loc on Wednesday and Thursday, killing all eight crewmen aboard. The losses raised to 950 the number of American helicopters shot

Cold Weather Will Continue In District

The cold is due to continue at least through Wednesday, according to the weatherman.

The immediate forecast calls for cloudy and windy with snow flurries tonight and Saturday.

Today's high will range from the upper 20s to the lower 30s. Tonight's low will be in the 20s.

Temperatures through Wednesday will be below normal. Daytime highs will average in the mid and low 30s and lows at night in the lower 20s. It will be rather cold throughout the period with no great day-to-day changes.

Precipitation is expected to total one to four-tenths of an inch melted occurring as snow over the weekend and again early next week and with frequent periods of snow flurries otherwise.

$265,000 Bid By Phone

NEW YORK (AP) — A private collector bidding by telephone from Washington bought an emerald ring Thursday for $265,000 during a public auction at Parke - Bernet Galleries. Also bidding on the 34.3 carat lady's ring, about the size of a walnut, was Carol Ponti, husband of actress Sophia Loren. He bid $260,000. The gallery sold a record 1.3 million in jewelry.

Delay Still Looms For Start

U.S., Hanoi Agree On Six Procedures In Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam were reported today to have reached agreement on at least six procedural points, but delay still loomed for the start of expanded peace talks.

A sticking point is the shape of a table for the negotiators, seemingly trivial but highly significant for South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, who will join the talks for the first time.

The allies want a rectangular table, with the United States and South Vietnam on one side and North Vietnam and the Viet Cong on the other. North Vietnam wants a square table to show the independence of its protege, the Viet Cong. South Vietnam recognizes the Viet Cong only as part of the North's delegation.

In Saigon, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, discussing the forthcoming negotiations, declared in a radio-television address: "There is no reason that we shall let the Communists achieve through negotiations their dream of domination because of a minute of weakness on our part.

"Our delegation will come to the conference table neither to wrestle for any advantage nor to force the opposite side to concession. We will only demand that there be reasonableness, equality and rationality."

In two private meetings earlier this week, the United States and North Vietnam agreed on a number of points, including the room and the language to be used at the outset of the conference.

Despite the squabble over the shape of the table, U.S. sources said agreement has been reached on six or seven other points and they still hope for the first procedural meeting to be held next week.

Sweden Gives 'Asylum' To Area Soldier

A Beaver County soldier opposed to the Vietnam war has been granted asylum in Sweden.

The Defense Department announced Thursday Edward M. Neville, Jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neville of 555 Tuscarawas Rd., Brighton Township, is one of four men granted asylum because of their views on the conflict.

The federal agency said he was identified by the Swedish Alien Commission in Stockholm.

Neville was drafted into the Army and had completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and reportedly had been stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., awaiting shipment overseas to Vietnam. His wife, Mary, is with him in Sweden.

Harriman Thought Otherwise

Nixon Reaffirms Intention Not To Send Aide To Talks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon has reaffirmed his intention not to send an interim observer to Paris to sit in on the Vietnam peace talks.

Earlier Thursday W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator in Paris, emerged from a hour-long meeting with the President-elect and indicated that a representative of the new administration probably would be sent to Paris before the first of the year.

"I got the impression that he will send an observer," Harriman said of Nixon, "but I don't know who he will be or when he will come."

"It seems to Mr. (Cyrus R.) Vance and I that this will be a very excellent way to show continuity," Harriman said. "It was perfectly clear that Mr. Nixon wanted to have a continuity in these negotiations."

Standing beside Harriman at that moment was Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, who, less than 24 hours earlier, had disclosed that Nixon already had reached a tentative decision against sending a pre-inauguration envoy to Paris.

On this later occasion, Ziegler listened to Harriman express confidence such an emissary would be dispatched and commented: "The thinking at this time is leaning toward sending an observer."

Ziegler interposed no objection when Harriman further related that both he and Cyrus R. Vance, deputy negotiator in

It Has So Many Changes

Doctors Have Hard Time Fighting New Flu Virus

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors are having a hard time fighting the Hong Kong flu because the flu virus changes from year to year, area to area, even case to case.

That is why vaccine being developed to prevent this year's variant of the Asian flu remains an unknown quantity, doctors at the National Communicable Disease Center said. They expect Hong Kong flu to reach epidemic proportions in the United States this winter.

"We're lucky in most years if a vaccine is 60 to 70 per cent effective," Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the center, said. "Our biggest problem is trying to educate people to understand that flu is different from all other infectious diseases."

The difference lies in what scientists call the "antigenic drift."

An antigen is a substance that causes the formation of antibodies. In all viruses except the ones causing flu, the antigens do not change. Therefore, a vaccine once effective against a virus-caused disease is always effective.

Scientists do not know why, or even exactly how, but flu viruses are different. This change or mutability usually is so small that a vaccine developed for one strain will have at least a limited effect on a newer type.

Occasionally, however, flu virus antigens will show a more marked difference, as in the case of Hong Kong flu, and a new vaccine is needed.

A new vaccine has been developed, using fertile chicken eggs to grow the virus strain used in inoculation. But nobody knows yet how effective it will be.

Dr. Walter R. Dowdle, chief of the center's respiratory virus infections unit, reported on tests now under way to find out.

A test group in Orange County, Calif., was innoculated about three weeks ago, he said, and a lab team from the center is in the county now "specifically to draw blood specimens to be sent to the lab." The specimens will show how effective the vaccine is in eliciting antibodies."

In addition, lab teams have innoculated inmates at the U.S. penitentiary in Atlanta and at Georgia's state prison at Reidsville. Dowdle said nose washes taken from the inmates at the time of vaccination and three weeks later will help tell scientists what to expect from the vaccine.

"The Hong Kong virus grows very well," Dowdle said, "much better than the original Asian flu."

Senior Citizens Here Select New Officers

Mrs. Margaret Datwyler was elected president of the East Liverpool Area Senior Citizens Club Thursday afternoon at the parish house of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Others named were Lester Hickman, first vice president; Guy Krentler, second vice president; Virginia Heddleston, secretary; Lessie Thomas, treasurer, and Mildred Rose, treasurer.

The officers will be installed Jan. 2 by the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr. of the church.

A memorial service was held for five recently deceased members. In each case, a delegation of members visited the funeral homes and services were conducted by Louis Provost, club chaplain.

The choral group will hold a Christmas party and gift exchange Monday at 1 p.m. at the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Ann Osborn, presented several selections.

Members of the craft classes have completed making tote bags and favors for shut-ins and will fill them with candies, nuts, fruits and personal gifts at the two remaining meetings this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Krentler, who are visitation representatives, reported on visits to the hospitalized and shut-in members of the club.

The corsage was received by Ella Emmerling. Ninety-two attended.

Mrs. Ella Lowers of Newell will screen slides of the work of her daughter, Lois, among the Indians in South America at the meeting next week.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 19, with Santa distributing gifts.

Two Will Face Jury In Delinquency Case

Two East Liverpool youths were bound over to the next term of the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor following a hearing Thursday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Donald L. Wilson, 18, and David Wooley, 19, are in Brooke County jail in default of $1,000 bond.

According to Hancock County authorities, a 15-year-old Chester girl was with Wilson and Wooley for five days, leaving with them Nov. 24. Authorities said the girl went willingly and the three returned on Nov. 29 when the two boys were arrested by sheriff's deputies.

In 28 of the attacks the targets were 10 provincial capitals and district towns and 18 South Vietnamese military bases, a government spokesman said.

The government said that since the halt in the bombing, there have been 115 shellings of provincial capitals and district towns, with 56 civilians killed and 498 wounded.

The attacks on American installations included 25 rounds of mortar fire slammed into a U.S. Army support area in the sprawling Bien Hoa Air Base 15 miles north of Saigon.

At the northern end of South Vietnam, U.S. Marine bombers and the battleship New Jersey made coordinated attacks Thursday on North Vietnamese gun positions and bunkers inside the demilitarized zone for the second time this week.

U.S. headquarters said the 1,900-pound shells from the New Jersey's 16-inch guns and the bombs from the jets smashed five 50-caliber machine gun emplacements, 15 bunkers and 65 yards of trenches.

Two American pilots flying light reconnaissance planes over the southern half of the DMZ had spotted the emplacement about three miles northeast of the U.S. combat base at Con Thien.

"There were no reports of guns in the emplacements," a U.S. spokesman said. "The emplacements were attacked to make sure that guns weren't moved in."

Ground actios also was reported in North Vietnam's northern provinces Thursday.

Military spokesmen said American Marines of the 26th Regiment overran 30 enemy bunkers 11 miles south of Da Nang, and apparently there was no resistance.

The Marines reported finding 58 bodies, apparently victims of two days of air and artillery strikes and machine-gun fire that preceded the assault. There were no Marine casualties.

This was part of a Operation Meade River, a two-week-old hunt for a force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong guerrillas posing a potential threat to Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

A Marine spokesman said the 7,000-man allied force, which includes South Vietnamese infantrymen and South Korean marines, have killed 499 of the enemy about 50 U.S. Marines have been killed, according to field reports, and other allied casualties are reported light.

Deaths and Funerals

Dory Clyde Coplin

Dory Clyde Coplin, 62, of 705 Avondale St. died today at 7:55 a.m. in Weirton General Hospital following a year's illness.

Born Feb. 16, 1906, in St. Marys, W. Va., he was a son of the late Hamilton Coplin and Laura Simms Coplin.

Mr. Coplin was employed as a maintenance carpenter at Waterford Park race track since its construction in 1948.

He was married Jan. 30, 1928, to Lena Cunningham, who survives at home. Mr. Coplin had been a local resident about 40 years.

He was a member of Columbiana County Carpenters Local 1189.

A daughter, three sisters and five brothers preceded him in death.

In addition to his widow, survivors include two sons, Arthur E. Coplin and Larry E. Coplin of East Liverpool; three daughters, Mrs. Charles (Patricia) Cline of New Matamoras; Mrs. Jessie (Marilyn) McGill of Mannington, W. Va., and Mrs. Clarence (Ida) Allison of Newell; two sisters, Mrs. George (Iva) Callas of Newell and Mrs. Grace Shaffer of Akron, and 11 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the East Liverpool Arner Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Saturday. Arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Grace Bailey

The Rev. Ralph Mitchell of the Congo Church of the Nazarene will officiate at services for Mrs. Grace Bailey of Chester RD 1 Saturday at 3 p. m. at the East Liverpool Arner Homes for Funerals. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Bailey died Wednesday at Weirton General Hospital, where she had been a patient eight weeks.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and night.

Francis Allford

Francis Allford of Sepulveda, Calif., a former resident of East Liverpool, died Thursday morning at his home of an apparent heart attack.

He left here about six years ago. He had been employed at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and was a member of the Pleasant Heights Baptist Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mildred Allford, at home, four daughters, two sons, five brothers, Harry Allford of LaCroft, Thomas Allford of East Liverpool, Everett Allford of Wellsville, Lonnie Allford of Orlando, Fla., and Allen Allford of St. Louis, Mo., and two half-sisters, Mrs. Verl Dean of Chester and Mrs. Ann Husted of East Liverpool.

Services and burial will be held Saturday at Sepulveda.

It Has So Many Changes

Doctors Have Hard Time Fighting New Flu Virus

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors are having a hard time fighting the Hong Kong flu because the flu virus changes from year to year, area to area, even case to case.

That is why vaccine being developed to prevent this year's variant of the Asian flu remains an unknown quantity, doctors at the National Communicable Disease Center said. They expect Hong Kong flu to reach epidemic proportions in the United States this winter.

"We're lucky in most years if a vaccine is 60 to 70 per cent effective," Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the center, said. "Our biggest problem is trying to educate people to understand that flu is different from all other infectious diseases."

The difference lies in what scientists call the "antigenic drift."

An antigen is a substance that causes the formation of antibodies. In all viruses except the ones causing flu, the antigens do not change. Therefore, a vaccine once effective against a virus-caused disease is always effective.

Scientists do not know why, or even exactly how, but flu viruses are different. This change or mutability usually is so small that a vaccine developed for one strain will have at least a limited effect on a newer type.

Occasionally, however, flu virus antigens will show a more marked difference, as in the case of Hong Kong flu, and a new vaccine is needed.

A new vaccine has been developed, using fertile chicken eggs to grow the virus strain used in inoculation. But nobody knows yet how effective it will be.

Dr. Walter R. Dowdle, chief of the center's respiratory virus infections unit, reported on tests now under way to find out.

A test group in Orange County, Calif., was innoculated about three weeks ago, he said, and a lab team from the center is in the county now "specifically to draw blood specimens to be sent to the lab." The specimens will show how effective the vaccine is in eliciting antibodies."

In addition, lab teams have innoculated inmates at the U.S. penitentiary in Atlanta and at Georgia's state prison at Reidsville. Dowdle said nose washes taken from the inmates at the time of vaccination and three weeks later will help tell scientists what to expect from the vaccine.

"The Hong Kong virus grows very well," Dowdle said, "much better than the original Asian flu."

Senior Citizens Here Select New Officers

Mrs. Margaret Datwyler was elected president of the East Liverpool Area Senior Citizens Club Thursday afternoon at the parish house of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Others named were Lester Hickman, first vice president; Guy Krentler, second vice president; Virginia Heddleston, secretary; Lessie Thomas, treasurer, and Mildred Rose, treasurer.

The officers will be installed Jan. 2 by the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr. of the church.

A memorial service was held for five recently deceased members. In each case, a delegation of members visited the funeral homes and services were conducted by Louis Provost, club chaplain.

The choral group will hold a Christmas party and gift exchange Monday at 1 p.m. at the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Ann Osborn, presented several selections.

Members of the craft classes have completed making tote bags and favors for shut-ins and will fill them with candies, nuts, fruits and personal gifts at the two remaining meetings this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Krentler, who are visitation representatives, reported on visits to the hospitalized and shut-in members of the club.

The corsage was received by Ella Emmerling. Ninety-two attended.

Mrs. Ella Lowers of Newell will screen slides of the work of her daughter, Lois, among the Indians in South America at the meeting next week.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 19, with Santa distributing gifts.

Two Will Face Jury In Delinquency Case

Two East Liverpool youths were bound over to the next term of the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor following a hearing Thursday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Donald L. Wilson, 18, and David Wooley, 19, are in Brooke County jail in default of $1,000 bond.

According to Hancock County authorities, a 15-year-old Chester girl was with Wilson and Wooley for five days, leaving with them Nov. 24. Authorities said the girl went willingly and the three returned on Nov. 29 when the two boys were arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Progress In Mental Health

The proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes for expenditure of $165 million on capital improvements in Ohio's mental health program has met with widespread favor.

The enthusiasm of mental health workers is understandable. It has been a long dry spell in the mental health field.

INADEQUATE FUNDS and inadequate interest across the state accounts for Ohio's poor national ranking in expenditures for mental health.

The community mental health center program approved by the 107th General Assembly was a big stride in the right direction, and the capital improvement program is another.

But there is another phase of the problem that members of the 108th General Assembly will have to tackle.

That is personnel.

Just constructing new buildings is not enough. Money must be found to staff expanded facilities adequately.

A companion problem to the cost of personnel is the lack of a ready labor source to draw upon. The need for competent professionals and hospital workers in mental health outstrips the supply.

OHIO LEGISLATORS might find it helpful to study programs like those in Indiana and Maryland where high school seniors are introduced to work in mental hospitals and gain valuable experience. Many decide to enter the field and are helped through state grants-in-aid and scholarships.

New community mental health centers and the sizeable expansion indicated by the proposed capital improvement program brings the personnel problem to the critical state.

The most modern mental health hospital in the world won't help a single person if it doesn't have a staff.

A Wasted Opportunity

The message coming from a conference of student activists at Notre Dame University is that more protests against what they call "institutional racism" are in the offing.

Some straight talk from a civil rights crusader failed to make an impression on the nearly 300 students participating in the meeting sponsored by the national Student Association.

REV. THEODORE M. HESBURGH, Notre Dame's president and a member of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission since its founding 11 years ago, spoke to the group during an evening session.

He told the students some progress has been made in the civil rights field, agreed that more needed to be done and said persistent hard work would move black-white relations forward.

Father Hesburgh put his opinion of the problem before the group in easy-to-understand words: "You're not going to solve it by emotion or simplistic answers. It's a hard, tough, grinding job. If you really want to help, for the love of Mike, get competent about the problem."

The differences in approaching the problem are shown vividly in Father Hesburgh's call for rejection of emotionalistic answers, and the students' continuation of mapping battle plans.

Father Hesburgh did not say the students have not chosen a worthwhile cause; He did not disagree with their position that unintentional forms of behavior insure continued race tension. He asked for co-operative, constructive action to end racism.

STUDENTS WERE MORE interested in discussing harassment and obstruction.

It is this rigid position, with its companion violence, that will bring far more damage than support to the campaign for racial harmony.

It is a shame that an opportunity for a welding of efforts in behalf of racial justice was wasted.

Easing Air Traffic Congestion

Escalation of air traffic congestion has forced the Federal Aviation Agency to issue restrictions at five major airports.

Despite protests of small plane operators and somewhat reluctant support from the big airlines, the action was justified.

Of prime consideration in the decision was the growing danger involved in overcrowding of airways above our large airports.

Action by the FAA demonstrates the magnitude of the congestion problem and makes certain Congress take a close look at legislation for airport expansion.

The Department of Transportation submitted a measure to Congress last year but it was sidetracked somewhere along the way.

Limitations to be imposed at O'Hare Airport in Chicago, Kennedy International and La Guardia in New York, Washington National and Newark Airport will add a new urgency to congressional action on the problem.

Fantastic growth in the aviation industry has brought the issue to a head. The FAA restrictions, which go into effect April 27, are admittedly a temporary solution.

It is wise the unpopular move was made before a tragedy brought it about.

The probem of unclogging our skyways to permit complete service by major carriers and allow small planes a greater freedom is squarely in the lap of Congress.

The issue cannot be ducked any longer. Airport expansion is a must.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Property Tax Reform

The country has now emerged from a long presidential campaign in which at least two candidates, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey, were aided by considerable collections of economists, speech and statement writers. Millions of words have been spoken or written for distribution.

The two important domestic issues were what to do about our crowded cities and inflation in which there is involved federal revenues and federal spending.

Both of these involve getting more money to help rebuild cities and to bring federal revenues more nearly into balance. In short, they involve taxation.

BUT IN ALL THIS OUTPOURING, which so far as possible was examined with some care, there is one glaring omission: there is not a single word uttered about reforming the property tax.

True, the property tax is not a direct federal responsibility and both candidates were running for a federal office.

But neither is law and order, except in a minor degree, a federal responsibility. And the problem of rebuilding cities and the elimination of slums is a local responsibility.

But both candidates said a great deal about the capacity of the presidential leadership to influence state and local officers. And in reality the vast array of federal program which extend to state and local governments bring the president directly into the concerns of these governments.

Nixon came out solidly for sharing federal revenues with the states, perhaps without due consideration of the practical problems involved. And also for tax inducements designed to attract private capital into local areas for housing and other improvements.

These proposals may well meet with serious opposition from House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills, whose word will be law or no law in tax matters in the next Congress. And both of Nixon's proposals will make federal budget balancing much more difficult.

This brings property tax reform squarely in line with national policy.

It may be that a reform of the property tax might not produce new billions of revenue. But it is a large element in the economy. It accounts for revenues over the country of something like $23 or $25 billion. But a readjustment of the tax might contribute toward the capacity of cities to carry more of the load which they now find impossible to carry.

One reform might be to realize more revenue at the local level by capturing some of the unearned profits now reaped by land speculators. This might be accomplished by some sort of capital gains tax. Another might be the imposition of a heavier tax on land held out of use.

But the real gain would be to bring more private capital into new housing and the improvement of old housing by shifting some of the assessment from the improvement to the land.

More and more economists are looking favorably to such a shift in the property tax. Prof. Lowell Harris of Columbia, who is also research director of the Tax Foundation, says this in a Tax Foundation publication:

"A shift of the proportions of property tax could be beneficial. Suppose that the rate on land values were three times the rate on improvements — or other proportions which would not alter the total revenue for the locality.

"As a start toward reform of a major tax, one which will continue to play a large role in our society, such shift of emphasis seems highly attractive. The suggestion here is not to increase the total revenue from the 'two taxes' but to realign the proportions.

"ON THE AVERAGE, property owners would pay the same amount of tax. But few would be at just the average. Substantially higher rates on land values would induce owners of low-use land to convert to higher-value uses. Meanwhile, the lower tax rates on buildings would encourage replacement of old structures by new ones, as well as new additions. The benefits, I submit, could be highly significant — not revolutionary, not earthshaking, but not insignificant."

This view, which is coming into acceptance by more and more students of urban problems, makes a great deal of sense. It should certainly be considered before more billions of federal revenues are pumped into our cities. The way to induce more private investment in rebuilding our cities is to make the tax on improvement less and to force unused land into use by heavier taxes.

Reuther Is Reaching In A Hurry

WASHINGTON — Since the Democratic Party is up for grabs, Walter Reuther is reaching fast. There is the embarrassing item, Hubert H. Humphrey. He doesn't quite know what to do with the party, with the leadership or with himself.

Victor Riesel

Some of his young fifty-year-old aides urge him to restructure (that's the in-word) the Democratic National Committee, take over the chairmanship and become a strong leader of legions which can roll powerfully into 1972.

But there are young middle-aged militants who keep reminding him he's an old candidate and should fade away—to be seen only behind the traditional fruit cup at traditional money-raising banquets.

This clan loves him like a brother, but not like a political leader. Heading the reform phalanx, a sort of left-wing moderate mafia, are men who lean heavily on the itinerant Reuther, now country-hopping in Eastern Europe.

As always, Reuther will be in a position to reaffirm his fraternity with Vice-President Humphrey, who came near winning with the money and political muscle of Reuther's rival, George Meany.

BUT THERE'S NO DOUBT that the auto union chief has approved moves by some of his most brilliant infighting aides to attempt to "reform," remake and recapture the Democratic Party, in which the Reuther brothers and Jack Conway exerted such influence during the days of the tragic Kennedys.

Their account executive in charge of the new politics is an old Yale man, Paul Schrade, once for five years Reuther's administrative assistant, and now United Auto Workers director for Western Region 6.

But for the grace of God, Schrade would today be with the man he loved so much, the late Senator Kennedy. The Western auto union leader was hit in the skull by the same fusillade which cut down New York's junior senator.

But Schrade is as fearless as he is lucky. He is as bright as he is militant and new leftish. He is as irascible with political disbelievers as he is "pleased" to work with such veteran ultra-leftists as Harry Bridges and the less known but more powerful Pacific longshoremen's leader, friend and "brother, Louis Goldblatt."

Inside labor, there are few such professionals as Paul Schrade — university man, scholar, auto plant worker, labor headquarters administrator, union leader, community (as in Watts) activist, organizer of the poor — and as nimble politically as Machiavelli's Prince.

ALL OF WHICH led him to the co-chairmanship of the New Democratic Coalition. It is unusual, to say the least, for such a post to be handed to a labor official (even if he is actively one of the powers inside ADA).

Such a leadership assignment, in more affluent political times, would go to a McCarthy, or Gailbraith, or at least the president of a university, albeit a small one.

But the New Democratic Coalition recognizes an old political truism — without a labor base, the Democratic Party cannot survive in the Roosevelt-Kennedy image.

Obviously Paul Schrade is that base. He would not take the leadership of a movement to reorganize the Democratic Party unless he had consulted with his Pythian mentors, Jack Conway and Walter Reuther.

IT IS AN ambitious venture being planned by the Schrade escadrille. They plan to take the party machinery from Mr. Humphrey, without hurting his feelings, if possible. They plan to tell Mayor Daley to jump in Lake Michigan, and don't care if his feelings are hurt or not. They plan to publish newsletters and to pamphleteer.

They most certainly plan to set up para-structures, or just ordinary community action clubs, in as many cities as possible.

One of Mr. Humphrey's closest companions and advisors during the recent campaign, said bitterly here the other Saturday night; "There's the new left in the party the warlords of the future."

Certainly Vice President Humphrey's people are angry men. They know that the New Coalition is not pledged to any man, despite the talk of Ted Kennedy, Ed Muskie and George McGovern as the men of the future. But Mr. Humphrey's people also know that their "old candidate" is being ruled out by the Coalition.

Nor is their bitterness eased by their belief that, had the New Coalition fought for their "old candidate," Vice President Humphrey might be President-elect today.

Prices Rise

Control of the national economy is often assumed to be something that the federal government can manage with meticulous efficiency. But the general public often is unaware of factors that cannot always be foreseen.

This week, for instance, the leading commercial banks of the country have boosted their minimum lending rates on corporate loans from 6¼ per cent to 6½ per cent.

If somebody in industry raised prices, the assumption would be that it was prompted just by a desire to make more profits. But the banks of the nation are supervised by the federal reserve system, and if interest rates go up, it is so often the result of federal reserve policy.

THE COST OF MONEY at present is being increased presumably to curtail or slow down the demand for money. But there are also natural reasons why bankers feel they must raise interest rates. Often it is because they must pay higher sums for the money they borrow for purposes of re-lending.

Not all government economists like the upward rise in interest rates but some of them feel it was inevitable because consumer prices also have been rising.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported last week a six-tenths of one per cent increase in October over the previous month, due to higher prices for new automobiles, apparel and some foods. The October index is 4.6 per cent higher than a year ago.

Increases for the first 10 months in 1968 amount to 4 per cent, compared to 3.1 percent for all of 1967.

There has been an upward trend in the prices of apparel and accessories, with prices averaging 6½ per cent above a year ago. Retail prices for food in grocery stores rose, instead of declining as had been expected.

Increases were noted in the prices of eggs and dairy products, which are higher than usual. Meat prices have not shown the decline generally experienced in the autumn season. Household appliances at both the wholesale and retail levels as well as furniture and floor covering have risen higher and higher.

THE PRICES OF NEW CARS went up in October and there has been a reduction in allowances on trade-ins and in other discounts on new models. For some workers the cost-of-living increases are offset by added compensation in union contracts. These provide that, when the national index of prices goes up, a raise in wages per hour is automatically given.

There is always a possibility that when a slowdown in the economy starts, it may go much further than anticipated. It is suggested by the experts that this might in turn cause the commercial banks to begin to pare down their prime rates early next year.

The bankers, however, are defending their higher rates by saying the price they must pay for money through certificates of deposit has pushed upward and there is a bigger demand for loans.

It is estimated that New York banks increased their outstanding commercial loans by more than 400 million dollars in the four weeks ending Nov. 27, according to figures made available by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Conditions are not always uniform but there is a tendency on the part of other banks throughout the country to watch what New York banks do, and follow them. Some of the finance companies are beginning to boost their rates, too.

The whole situation is one that is not relished by those political observers who think that, if the economy slows down, it will present the Nixon administration with the necessity for important decisions in other fields that could, for a time, adversely affect the national economy.

THE POSSIBILITY of a recession in 1969 has been widely discussed by economists. Predictions vary as to when it might come. Some experts have predicted that it would develop in the latter part of 1969, but it could come much earlier if the new administration's policies are of such a nature as to let the slowdown take its course.

The basic purpose would be to stop the inflationary trend. This could bring a drop in demand, which might cause prices generally to be reduced.

Such a situation, however, cannot happen in a week or a month and the latest change in interest rates by the banks is not an indication that the economy has begun to slow down. On the contrary, business is still strong and the upward movement of prices is continuing.

Progress In Mental Health

The proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes for expenditure of $165 million on capital improvements in Ohio's mental health program has met with widespread favor.

The enthusiasm of mental health workers is understandable. It has been a long dry spell in the mental health field.

INADEQUATE FUNDS and inadequate interest across the state accounts for Ohio's poor national ranking in expenditures for mental health.

The community mental health center program approved by the 107th General Assembly was a big stride in the right direction, and the capital improvement program is another.

But there is another phase of the problem that members of the 108th General Assembly will have to tackle.

That is personnel.

Just constructing new buildings is not enough. Money must be found to staff expanded facilities adequately.

A companion problem to the cost of personnel is the lack of a ready labor source to draw upon. The need for competent professionals and hospital workers in mental health outstrips the supply.

OHIO LEGISLATORS might find it helpful to study programs like those in Indiana and Maryland where high school seniors are introduced to work in mental hospitals and gain valuable experience. Many decide to enter the field and are helped through state grants-in-aid and scholarships.

New community mental health centers and the sizeable expansion indicated by the proposed capital improvement program brings the personnel problem to the critical state.

The most modern mental health hospital in the world won't help a single person if it doesn't have a staff.

A Wasted Opportunity

The message coming from a conference of student activists at Notre Dame University is that more protests against what they call "institutional racism" are in the offing.

Some straight talk from a civil rights crusader failed to make an impression on the nearly 300 students participating in the meeting sponsored by the national Student Association.

REV. THEODORE M. HESBURGH, Notre Dame's president and a member of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission since its founding 11 years ago, spoke to the group during an evening session.

He told the students some progress has been made in the civil rights field, agreed that more needed to be done and said persistent hard work would move black-white relations forward.

Father Hesburgh put his opinion of the problem before the group in easy-to-understand words: "You're not going to solve it by emotion or simplistic answers. It's a hard, tough, grinding job. If you really want to help, for the love of Mike, get competent about the problem."

The differences in approaching the problem are shown vividly in Father Hesburgh's call for rejection of emotionalistic answers, and the students' continuation of mapping battle plans.

Father Hesburgh did not say the students have not chosen a worthwhile cause; He did not disagree with their position that unintentional forms of behavior insure continued race tension. He asked for co-operative, constructive action to end racism.

STUDENTS WERE MORE interested in discussing harassment and obstruction.

It is this rigid position, with its companion violence, that will bring far more damage than support to the campaign for racial harmony.

It is a shame that an opportunity for a welding of efforts in behalf of racial justice was wasted.

Easing Air Traffic Congestion

Escalation of air traffic congestion has forced the Federal Aviation Agency to issue restrictions at five major airports.

Despite protests of small plane operators and somewhat reluctant support from the big airlines, the action was justified.

Of prime consideration in the decision was the growing danger involved in overcrowding of airways above our large airports.

Action by the FAA demonstrates the magnitude of the congestion problem and makes certain Congress take a close look at legislation for airport expansion.

The Department of Transportation submitted a measure to Congress last year but it was sidetracked somewhere along the way.

Limitations to be imposed at O'Hare Airport in Chicago, Kennedy International and La Guardia in New York, Washington National and Newark Airport will add a new urgency to congressional action on the problem.

Fantastic growth in the aviation industry has brought the issue to a head. The FAA restrictions, which go into effect April 27, are admittedly a temporary solution.

It is wise the unpopular move was made before a tragedy brought it about.

The probem of unclogging our skyways to permit complete service by major carriers and allow small planes a greater freedom is squarely in the lap of Congress.

The issue cannot be ducked any longer. Airport expansion is a must.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Property Tax Reform

The country has now emerged from a long presidential campaign in which at least two candidates, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey, were aided by considerable collections of economists, speech and statement writers. Millions of words have been spoken or written for distribution.

The two important domestic issues were what to do about our crowded cities and inflation in which there is involved federal revenues and federal spending.

Both of these involve getting more money to help rebuild cities and to bring federal revenues more nearly into balance. In short, they involve taxation.

BUT IN ALL THIS OUTPOURING, which so far as possible was examined with some care, there is one glaring omission: there is not a single word uttered about reforming the property tax.

True, the property tax is not a direct federal responsibility and both candidates were running for a federal office.

But neither is law and order, except in a minor degree, a federal responsibility. And the problem of rebuilding cities and the elimination of slums is a local responsibility.

But both candidates said a great deal about the capacity of the presidential leadership to influence state and local officers. And in reality the vast array of federal program which extend to state and local governments bring the president directly into the concerns of these governments.

Nixon came out solidly for sharing federal revenues with the states, perhaps without due consideration of the practical problems involved. And also for tax inducements designed to attract private capital into local areas for housing and other improvements.

These proposals may well meet with serious opposition from House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills, whose word will be law or no law in tax matters in the next Congress. And both of Nixon's proposals will make federal budget balancing much more difficult.

This brings property tax reform squarely in line with national policy.

It may be that a reform of the property tax might not produce new billions of revenue. But it is a large element in the economy. It accounts for revenues over the country of something like $23 or $25 billion. But a readjustment of the tax might contribute toward the capacity of cities to carry more of the load which they now find impossible to carry.

One reform might be to realize more revenue at the local level by capturing some of the unearned profits now reaped by land speculators. This might be accomplished by some sort of capital gains tax. Another might be the imposition of a heavier tax on land held out of use.

But the real gain would be to bring more private capital into new housing and the improvement of old housing by shifting some of the assessment from the improvement to the land.

More and more economists are looking favorably to such a shift in the property tax. Prof. Lowell Harris of Columbia, who is also research director of the Tax Foundation, says this in a Tax Foundation publication:

"A shift of the proportions of property tax could be beneficial. Suppose that the rate on land values were three times the rate on improvements — or other proportions which would not alter the total revenue for the locality.

"As a start toward reform of a major tax, one which will continue to play a large role in our society, such shift of emphasis seems highly attractive. The suggestion here is not to increase the total revenue from the 'two taxes' but to realign the proportions.

"ON THE AVERAGE, property owners would pay the same amount of tax. But few would be at just the average. Substantially higher rates on land values would induce owners of low-use land to convert to higher-value uses. Meanwhile, the lower tax rates on buildings would encourage replacement of old structures by new ones, as well as new additions. The benefits, I submit, could be highly significant — not revolutionary, not earthshaking, but not insignificant."

This view, which is coming into acceptance by more and more students of urban problems, makes a great deal of sense. It should certainly be considered before more billions of federal revenues are pumped into our cities. The way to induce more private investment in rebuilding our cities is to make the tax on improvement less and to force unused land into use by heavier taxes.

Icy Streets Blamed For Midland Crashes

Icy streets were blamed for two auto accidents in Midland Thursday.

Sim Hill of 469 Beaver Ave. suffered a cut on the left forehead when the car in which he was a passenger struck a utility pole at Midland Ave. and 12th St. at 9:25 a.m.

Police said the car was operated by Mrs. Ella McDonald of 371 Penn Ave., Midland, and owned by Pete McDonald of the same address.

After the car hit the pole, it was struck in the right side it was struck in the right side by another operated by Mrs. Irene Mazine of 608 Penn Ave.

Three cars figured in a mishap at 10 a.m. at Beaver Ave. and 6th St.

Police said Mrs. Fannie Moll of 1069 Midland Ave. had halted on Beaver Ave. and then pulled onto 6th, striking the left rear door and fender of an auto operated by Steve Kasunich of 632 Ohio Ave. The Kasunich auto then hit a parked auto on 6th St. Minor damage resulted.

Saxbe Rules On Tape Recorder And Police

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe ruled Thursday that a tape recorder may not be used to replace a court stenographer in common pleas court. The opinion was sought by Brown County Prosecutor Angus B. Wilson.

Saxbe also ruled that township police have no authority to make arrests on state highways.

3 At Oak Glen Will Compete In Teen-Age Event

Three students from Oak Glen High School are among those across the U.S. selected as "Outstanding Teen-Agers of America."

They are John Mayhew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mayhew of New Manchester; Kim Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter of 236 Alley Ave., Chester, and Robert Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Milner of 421 Indiana Ave., Chester. All are seniors.

The students, nominated for the honor by their school, will compete for state and national awards in the "Outstanding Teen-Agers of America" program.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a nonprofit foundation dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America, sponsors the program annually.

The students are selected on the basis of ability and achievement. They will compete with other winners in their state for the Governor's Trophy awarded annually to the most outstanding teen-ager of each state. Each of the 50 state winners will be eligible for one of the two national Outstanding Teen-Agers of America awards and college scholarships, made available by the Outstanding Americans Foundation.

John Putman, president of the foundation, says it is the goal of the awards program "to recognize and encourage the ability and achievements of today's young people. They are America's leaders of tomorrow."

Seniors Briefed On Workings Of Social Security

Social Security was discussed Thursday for 126 seniors at East Liverpool High School.

Robert V. Harris, district manager, and Joseph Kriss, field representative of the East Liverpool office, reviewed the history and legislative process of social security and the types of benefits paid.

The security officials have spoken at the high school the last several years under arrangements made by Miss Helen M. Capehart, instructor in government.

Hearing Planned In Zone Change

The City Planning Commission is scheduled to conduct a public hearing Monday night at 7 in the Council chamber at City Hall on a request to change the zoning classification of a large tract of ground in Fisher Park.

The undeveloped land now is zoned S-1 (special). The application seeks to change the classification to R-2 (medium density residential), reportedly as the site of a 50-unit apartment development contemplated by a private firm.

George Steele, chairman, said the commission's regular monthly meeting will be held in conjunction with the public hearing. Originally, the commission was scheduled to meet Monday noon in its office at City Hall.

The S-1 classification covers "large public or semi - public land holdings, land which is suitable for noncommercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or takeoff or landing of aircraft, low-lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of the municipal water supply."

Meeting Of CAA To Be Held Here

LISBON — The Community Action Agency of Columbiana County, Inc., will hold its next meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the East Liverpool Resource Center, 940 Pennsylvania Ave.

Lionel R. Smith, executive director in the CAA office at the County Welfare Department building here, said there will be a car pool at the welfare building for those needing a ride. Cars will leave Lisbon at 6:15.

A summary of community and federal investment in CAA programs in 1968-69 shows a total of $141,640, including $44,691 for the resource centers, $32,850 for Neighborhood Youth Corps, $39,835 for "Head Start" and $24,264 for administration. The federal share is $108,036, while $33,604 is the local contribution.

The "well" of the U.S. House of Representatives is the space between the clerk's desk, which is immediately in front of the speaker's rostrum, and the first row of seats.

Brown, Washington Universities Hit

Student Protests Spread

By The Associated Press

Student protests spread to Brown University's Ivy League campus and the halls of Washington University in suburban St. Louis Thursday while violence again struck at trouble-wracked San Francisco State College.

Police used drawn pistols and crowd-control chemical sprays to turn back an advancing mob of 150 striking students in the San Francisco College administration building. At least 32 persons were injured in a subsequent melee, two seriously.

Negro community leaders and two white clergymen were among 26 arrested. A total of 61 persons have been arrested since acting president S.I. Hayakawa reopened the 18,000-student campus Monday.

Hayakawa and Mayor Joseph Alioto prepared today to respond to minority students demands for an ethics studies department, but there was no guarantee that the announcement would end the month-long disturbance.

In St. Louis, about 40 of 100 Negroes enrolled at the 14,000-student Washington University campus locked themselves in the campus police station Thursday night protesting the alleged mistreatment of a Negro graduate student.

Another 200 white students occupied another administration office in the orderly and peaceful demonstration to back the Negro studest's demands that three security officers be fired and two others suspended.

The graduate student involved, Elbert Walton of St. Louis, said campus police grabbed his legs, made him fall, kicked him and handcuffed him and forced him into a patrol car. Police said Walton was released after showing he was a student.

Chancellor Thomas H. Eliot refused to take any action pending a hearing for the officers. One administration source said Walton put up a struggle and struck two officers when stopped for questioning.

Brown University in Providence, R.I., agreed to demands of Negro students who said they would boycott classes until black enrollment was increased. Students said they would study the proposal before accepting it.

About 65 students at Brown and Pembroke, its sister college, had earlier marched off campus declaring that a refusal of their demands would show that "it is a racist institution and plans to stay that way.

The students asked for a Negro enrollment of 11 per cent in incoming freshman classes. Brows has about 50 Negroes among its 2,000 students and Pembroke 35 among 1,000.

In New York, Martin J. Meade, Fordham University dean of student affairs, was recovering from a heart attack suffered hours after a student takeover of his office. Meade, 37, was hospitalized Thursday morning.

And Dr. James M. Hester, president of New York University, condemned as "barbaric" student demosstrators who abused a South Vietnamese official and forced Executive Editor James Reston of the New York Times to cancel a speech.

The word ecumenical comes from the Greek "oikumene," which means "the whole inhabited world." The World Council of Churches and other groups use it to signify the whole household of faith, embracing all races, all nations, all branches of the church itself.

Police said Mrs. Fannie Moll of 1069 Midland Ave. had halted on Beaver Ave. and then pulled onto 6th, striking the left rear door and fender of an auto operated by Steve Kasunich of 632 Ohio Ave. The Kasunich auto then hit a parked auto on 6th St. Minor damage resulted.

Saxbe Rules On Tape Recorder And Police

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe ruled Thursday that a tape recorder may not be used to replace a court stenographer in common pleas court. The opinion was sought by Brown County Prosecutor Angus B. Wilson.

Saxbe also ruled that township police have no authority to make arrests on state highways.

3 At Oak Glen Will Compete In Teen-Age Event

Three students from Oak Glen High School are among those across the U.S. selected as "Outstanding Teen-Agers of America."

They are John Mayhew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mayhew of New Manchester; Kim Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter of 236 Alley Ave., Chester, and Robert Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Milner of 421 Indiana Ave., Chester. All are seniors.

The students, nominated for the honor by their school, will compete for state and national awards in the "Outstanding Teen-Agers of America" program.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a nonprofit foundation dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America, sponsors the program annually.

The students are selected on the basis of ability and achievement. They will compete with other winners in their state for the Governor's Trophy awarded annually to the most outstanding teen-ager of each state. Each of the 50 state winners will be eligible for one of the two national Outstanding Teen-Agers of America awards and college scholarships, made available by the Outstanding Americans Foundation.

John Putman, president of the foundation, says it is the goal of the awards program "to recognize and encourage the ability and achievements of today's young people. They are America's leaders of tomorrow."

Seniors Briefed On Workings Of Social Security

Social Security was discussed Thursday for 126 seniors at East Liverpool High School.

Robert V. Harris, district manager, and Joseph Kriss, field representative of the East Liverpool office, reviewed the history and legislative process of social security and the types of benefits paid.

The security officials have spoken at the high school the last several years under arrangements made by Miss Helen M. Capehart, instructor in government.

Hearing Planned In Zone Change

The City Planning Commission is scheduled to conduct a public hearing Monday night at 7 in the Council chamber at City Hall on a request to change the zoning classification of a large tract of ground in Fisher Park.

The undeveloped land now is zoned S-1 (special). The application seeks to change the classification to R-2 (medium density residential), reportedly as the site of a 50-unit apartment development contemplated by a private firm.

George Steele, chairman, said the commission's regular monthly meeting will be held in conjunction with the public hearing. Originally, the commission was scheduled to meet Monday noon in its office at City Hall.

The S-1 classification covers "large public or semi - public land holdings, land which is suitable for noncommercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or takeoff or landing of aircraft, low-lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of the municipal water supply."

Meeting Of CAA To Be Held Here

LISBON — The Community Action Agency of Columbiana County, Inc., will hold its next meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the East Liverpool Resource Center, 940 Pennsylvania Ave.

Lionel R. Smith, executive director in the CAA office at the County Welfare Department building here, said there will be a car pool at the welfare building for those needing a ride. Cars will leave Lisbon at 6:15.

A summary of community and federal investment in CAA programs in 1968-69 shows a total of $141,640, including $44,691 for the resource centers, $32,850 for Neighborhood Youth Corps, $39,835 for "Head Start" and $24,264 for administration. The federal share is $108,036, while $33,604 is the local contribution.

The "well" of the U.S. House of Representatives is the space between the clerk's desk, which is immediately in front of the speaker's rostrum, and the first row of seats.

Brown, Washington Universities Hit

Student Protests Spread

By The Associated Press

Student protests spread to Brown University's Ivy League campus and the halls of Washington University in suburban St. Louis Thursday while violence again struck at trouble-wracked San Francisco State College.

Police used drawn pistols and crowd-control chemical sprays to turn back an advancing mob of 150 striking students in the San Francisco College administration building. At least 32 persons were injured in a subsequent melee, two seriously.

Negro community leaders and two white clergymen were among 26 arrested. A total of 61 persons have been arrested since acting president S.I. Hayakawa reopened the 18,000-student campus Monday.

Hayakawa and Mayor Joseph Alioto prepared today to respond to minority students demands for an ethics studies department, but there was no guarantee that the announcement would end the month-long disturbance.

In St. Louis, about 40 of 100 Negroes enrolled at the 14,000-student Washington University campus locked themselves in the campus police station Thursday night protesting the alleged mistreatment of a Negro graduate student.

Another 200 white students occupied another administration office in the orderly and peaceful demonstration to back the Negro studest's demands that three security officers be fired and two others suspended.

The graduate student involved, Elbert Walton of St. Louis, said campus police grabbed his legs, made him fall, kicked him and handcuffed him and forced him into a patrol car. Police said Walton was released after showing he was a student.

Chancellor Thomas H. Eliot refused to take any action pending a hearing for the officers. One administration source said Walton put up a struggle and struck two officers when stopped for questioning.

Brown University in Providence, R.I., agreed to demands of Negro students who said they would boycott classes until black enrollment was increased. Students said they would study the proposal before accepting it.

About 65 students at Brown and Pembroke, its sister college, had earlier marched off campus declaring that a refusal of their demands would show that "it is a racist institution and plans to stay that way.

The students asked for a Negro enrollment of 11 per cent in incoming freshman classes. Brows has about 50 Negroes among its 2,000 students and Pembroke 35 among 1,000.

In New York, Martin J. Meade, Fordham University dean of student affairs, was recovering from a heart attack suffered hours after a student takeover of his office. Meade, 37, was hospitalized Thursday morning.

And Dr. James M. Hester, president of New York University, condemned as "barbaric" student demosstrators who abused a South Vietnamese official and forced Executive Editor James Reston of the New York Times to cancel a speech.

The word ecumenical comes from the Greek "oikumene," which means "the whole inhabited world." The World Council of Churches and other groups use it to signify the whole household of faith, embracing all races, all nations, all branches of the church itself.

Rotary Will Hear Talk By College Executive

Dr. Peter W. Weston, vice president for development and public relations at Muskingum College, New Concord, will address the Rotary Club at its meeting Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

William D. Ogilvie is program chairman.

Dr. Weston's topic will be "Our YMCA—A Vision of Ourselves."

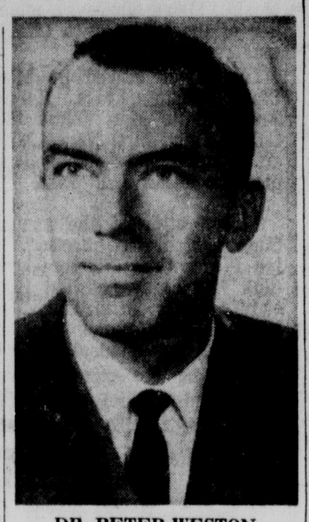
He joined the staff at Muskingum Nov. 1, 1963, as executive director of development and assistant to the president. In 1967, he was named to the newly-created position of vice president for development and public relations.

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., being in 1933, he came to Muskingum from Baldwin-Wallace in Berea, where he served for three years as administrative assistant to the president.

He served in 1958-59 as adviser for student government on the Indiana University personnel staff and, in 1959-60, as assistant to the vice chancellor for development at the University of Buffalo.

He was graduated in 1954 from Washington State University, received his Master of Science degree in 1958 from Indiana University and his Doctor of Education degree from Indiana in 1962.

Before entering the field of college education, he was associate secretary of the YMCA at Pullman, Wash., in 1955-56, and was in army service as a platoon leader with armored infantry from 1955 to 1957.



DR. PETER WESTON
Will Speak Here Tuesday.

He is the author of two studies in the field of college and university planning and development and since 1966 has been fund - raising institute lecturer for the American College Public Relations Association and the American Alumni Council.

He and Mrs. Weston are the parents of two children.

Dr. Weston is a member of the Cambridge Kiwanis Club, Cambridge Area YMCA board of directors, Cambridge Chamber of Commerce board of directors, New Concord Board of Trade and an elder of College Drive United Presbyterian Church.

20,000 Guards, Reserves Due To Receive Release

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon intends to release about 20,000 Army National Guardsmen and reservists now on active duty and replace them through increasing draft calls by possibly 3,000 men a month, sources say.

It was learned that the Army has decided to free its mobilized guardsmen and reservists by the end of 1969, meaning a savings of at least five months from the two years they could have served.

Meanwhile, sources said, draft calls will be boosted starting several months ahead of time to have regulars ready to fill the gaps left by the departing guardsmen and reservists.

Army officials calculate it takes about five months to put a man through basic and advanced individual training, and give him leave, before he can be assigned to a unit.

To accommodate the increased training load, the Army is reversing plans to cut back its training companies.

Less than a month ago, Nov. 18, the Army announced that 30 basic combat training companies at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and 13 advanced individual training companies at Ft. Dix, N.J., would be eliminated.

Since then, sources said, it was decided to set a target and get prepared for release of the 20,000 guardsmen and reservists ordered to active duty last spring to supply support troops for Vietnam and to plug some holes in the Army's forces in the United States.

The January draft call has been set at 26,800. It was not known immediately whether that quota will be raised or whether the increase will show up in later months.

A total of 38,000 Army, Air Force and Navy reservists and guardsmen were mustered in the wake of the enemy's winter offensive in Vietnam and a flareup of tensions in Korea stemming from the seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo.

The Air Force already has started freeing 16,127 reservists and guardsmen. All of them, including members of six guard fighter-bomber squadrons now in South Vietnam and South Korea, are due back in civilian life by June 30.

Mobilized pilots and navigators will be replaced from the Air Force's regular training output and what it calls its "personal management."

The Navy also has replaced some of the 1,600 reservists it ordered up earlier this year.

Most of the 13,600 Army guardsmen and 6,400 Army reservists were ordered into uniform last May.

Some 7,600 of them have gone to South Vietnam in 76 units, mostly company and detachment-size outfits performing transportation, medical, ordnance, signal and quarternaster work.

Included are two artillery battalions from New Hampshire and Kentucky and a combat engineer battalion from Idaho.

These units began arriving in Vietnam late in August. They are expected to finish their one-year overseas tour before demobilization.

An undetermined number of Army guardsmen and reservists have been sent to Vietnam as individual replacements in regular Army units.

Officials said they did not know when the individual "fillers" in Vietnam and stateside would start getting out.

November Chill Below Average

You can't blame the weather if you didn't get the leaves raked or the hay put up, Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport, points out in his report for November.

Though it was a little chillier (the average temperature for November is 41.6 and this year it was only 39.6) and presented local residents with less sun (average sunshine is 30 per cent and this year it was 21.5), it offered brisk weather for completing the end-of-the-season chores.

November, if lacking in heat, made up for it by bringing more rain, Copeland noted. The average downpour is 2.41 inches. This year 3.03 inches were recorded.

The high of 75 degrees occurred on Nov. 1 and the low of 19 on Nov. 14.

There were 21 cloudy, five partly cloudy and four clear days during the month.

Paris, would be replaced by one or more Nixon appointees soon after Jan. 20. Harriman did say Vance might remain in Paris "only a few days" to help the Nixon team.

Then came a clarification from President Johnson's Air Force One carrying Nixon nonstop to Los Angeles. Ziegler, who had not been present at the Nixon-Harriman conference, told a small group of newsmen aboard the plane that Harriman apparently had received an erroneous impression. The Nixon spokesman issued a formal statement that began:

"There will be no observer sent to Paris by President-elect Nixon between now and Jan. 20 . . . following the inauguration, Mr. Nixon will, of course, send a representative to Paris."

This was in keeping with Nixon's previously stated position prior to the Harriman meeting, that he would do nothing to inject himself into the Vietnam talks until they were his responsibility as president.

The President-elect attended a $250-a-plate dinner raising funds for building a new Roman Catholic Santa Marta Hospital in a Mexican-American neighborhood of the city. The host was James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles.

Today Nixon flies to the Southern California desert resort city of Palm Springs for the annual meeting of the Republican Governors Association.

SHIPPINGPORT — A budget of $10,258 was adopted by Council Thursday night. The 8-mill real estate tax and 14-mill occupational tax will remain the same.

The privilege tax of $10 for anyone earning $10,000 or more was re-enacted by Council.

Council authorized purchase of two tires and tubes for the road grader. Bids will be sought for a gas furnace for the community building. They will be opened at the next meeting Jan. 7.

Commissioners Due Traffic Safety Award

Beaver County commissioners will receive the Governor's Traffic Safety Award for contributions in the field of traffic safety during a state safety conference at Harrisburg Wednesday.

The commissioners are being cited for organizing the Beaver County Traffic Safety Council.

James E. Ross, commissioner, will accept the award. Eli G. Corak and George T. Pettibon, commissioners, also will attend.

Harry H. Brainerd, commissioner of Pennsylvania's Bureau of Traffic Safety, commended the commissioners for helping the organization in the struggle to "lessen bloodshed, fatalities and property damage taking place on our highways."

Amid Criticism Of Department

Czech's Liberal-Minded Press Control Head Fired

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government has replaced its liberal-minded press control chief amid a cross fire of criticism of his department.

Prague Radio said Thursday night that Deputy Premier Petr Colotka was being replaced as chairman of the committee for press and information by Deputy Education Minister Jaroslav Havelka. Colotka will continue to be a deputy premier.

No reason for the change was announced, but Communist party leader Alexander Dubcek told 1,200 miners in North Bohemia Thursday night that the press must work to implement party policy.

"It is necessary to increase the responsibility of publishers for the activities of mass information media in order that they become an instrument that will consistently and with initiative help to implement the policy of the party," he declared.

"This is not a question of recriminations but a placing of emphasis on the active Socialist approach of all media of information to the present-day tasks, is order that our society may pass through the present complicated period in an organized way—without a deeper upheaval."

The press and information committee was created in response to demands from Moscow for an end to the freedom of the press and radio which Dubcek's regime had allowed to flourish since last January. A curb on the press was one of the purposes of the Soviet invasion last August.

Colotka had been seeking to reopen channels of information to Czechoslovak journalists, and loopholes had been appearing in the censorship and controls his committee was supposed to enforce.

The deputy premier also was deeply involved in a near crisis over public demands to put an end to a controversial propaganda sheet.

It was considered likely that he was under fire from Moscow because he last week lifted a three-week ban on the outspoken weekly Reporter, published by the Union of Czechoslovak Journalists.

Magazine reappeared today with a letter from its editorial board declaring that no promises had been made to Colotka and warning that it would go to court against any future government action to halt its publication.

The issue also contained a provocative article taking issue with the idea that the press should be a policy tool of the authorities and branding censorship a "senile remnant of the last century."

There can be as many as five eclipses of the sun in one year.

Snow, Wind Curb Power At Conneaut

By The Associated Press

People in Conneaut lined up in a church for soup and sandwiches Thursday and some slept there after power was knocked out in half the city by a wet, heavy snow driven by winds up to 50 miles per hour.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said he expected full power to be restored today.

A Red Cross worker said she expected several hundred persons to visit the emergency center in Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Conneaut.

The storm hit hardest along Lake Erie in Lake and Ashtabula counties. Schools were closed. Power lines were knocked down. Driving was hazardous.

There was not much snow, but what fell was icy and heavy, causing tree limbs to sag onto power lines.

Bus, Trolley Fares Boosted In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bus and trolley fares will increase in Allegheny County by five cents beginning Jan. 1, 1969.

The board of directors of the Port Transit Authority voted Thursday to increase rates from 30 to 35 cents to 35 and 40 cents. Suburban and downtown fares will also be raised.

Revenue from the increase is expected to generate an additional $3 million a year in revenue.

Amid Criticism Of Department

Czech's Liberal-Minded Press Control Head Fired

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government has replaced its liberal-minded press control chief amid a cross fire of criticism of his department.

Prague Radio said Thursday night that Deputy Premier Petr Colotka was being replaced as chairman of the committee for press and information by Deputy Education Minister Jaroslav Havelka. Colotka will continue to be a deputy premier.

No reason for the change was announced, but Communist party leader Alexander Dubcek told 1,200 miners in North Bohemia Thursday night that the press must work to implement party policy.

"It is necessary to increase the responsibility of publishers for the activities of mass information media in order that they become an instrument that will consistently and with initiative help to implement the policy of the party," he declared.

"This is not a question of recriminations but a placing of emphasis on the active Socialist approach of all media of information to the present-day tasks, is order that our society may pass through the present complicated period in an organized way—without a deeper upheaval."

The press and information committee was created in response to demands from Moscow for an end to the freedom of the press and radio which Dubcek's regime had allowed to flourish since last January. A curb on the press was one of the purposes of the Soviet invasion last August.

Colotka had been seeking to reopen channels of information to Czechoslovak journalists, and loopholes had been appearing in the censorship and controls his committee was supposed to enforce.

The deputy premier also was deeply involved in a near crisis over public demands to put an end to a controversial propaganda sheet.

It was considered likely that he was under fire from Moscow because he last week lifted a three-week ban on the outspoken weekly Reporter, published by the Union of Czechoslovak Journalists.

Magazine reappeared today with a letter from its editorial board declaring that no promises had been made to Colotka and warning that it would go to court against any future government action to halt its publication.

The issue also contained a provocative article taking issue with the idea that the press should be a policy tool of the authorities and branding censorship a "senile remnant of the last century."

Snow, Wind Curb Power At Conneaut

By The Associated Press

People in Conneaut lined up in a church for soup and sandwiches Thursday and some slept there after power was knocked out in half the city by a wet, heavy snow driven by winds up to 50 miles per hour.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said he expected full power to be restored today.

A Red Cross worker said she expected several hundred persons to visit the emergency center in Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Conneaut.

The storm hit hardest along Lake Erie in Lake and Ashtabula counties. Schools were closed. Power lines were knocked down. Driving was hazardous.

There was not much snow, but what fell was icy and heavy, causing tree limbs to sag onto power lines.

Bus, Trolley Fares Boosted In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bus and trolley fares will increase in Allegheny County by five cents beginning Jan. 1, 1969.

The board of directors of the Port Transit Authority voted Thursday to increase rates from 30 to 35 cents to 35 and 40 cents. Suburban and downtown fares will also be raised.

Revenue from the increase is expected to generate an additional $3 million a year in revenue.

A 'Quest For Identity'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life today has been called a quest for identity.

Many people seem to be going around in circles plaintively inquiring of each other, like treble—voiced lost birds, "Are you actually you?" and "Tell me the truth now, am I really me?"

Others simply cling at every passing lapel and plead "Please help me find out who I am."

Yes, the search for identity has become one of the most popular parlor guessing games of our day. But if one is going to play a game at all well, he should begin at the beginning. Instead of starting off by demanding to know who they are, the players should first ask what they are.

"Am I animal, mineral, vegetable or human?" That should be the initial question.

How can one tell if he is really a human being? Here is a simple fill-it-out-yourself questionnaire that might provide the answer.

On a rainy night do you think everybody in the world deliberately jumps into a taxicab just so you won't be able to get one?

Do you throw an uneasy glance over your shoulder now and then because you have the feeling that you are being followed by someone other than Father Time?

Do you secretly hate injustice even though you know you are benefiting from it?

Do you owe more than you are worth but still feel that you are worth more than you owe?

Can you lose your head while all those about you are keeping theirs screwed on real tight?

When you are standing in a bank waiting for a friend to make a deposit or draw out some money, do you have the feeling that the guard is eyeing you suspiciously? And, as a matter of fact, aren't you actually at the same time wondering how hard it would be to rob a bank?

Naturally, like every other decent person, you are offended by the low moral tone of many modern movies, but don't you find yourself standing in line more often to see one of those films that don't admit anyone under 16?

If you had your life to live over again, are you honest enough to admit to yourself that you'd probably make an even bigger mess of it?

Doesn't your conscience mildly pang you now and then because you know you are getting away with something that you shouldn't? But you also still hope that you can go right on getting away with it, don't you?

If your answer to all these queries is a resounding "yes," then the verdict is clear. You're too normal to be inhuman. You are a very human being.

Now that you know what you are, you are ready for the next step in the game. Who are you, all kidding aside?

Group Names New Officers

Officers were elected when the Columbiana County Association of Trustees and Clerks held a dinner meeting this week at Crestview High School.

Named to serve during the coming year were: President, Allen Chamberlain, trustee of Fairfield Township; vice president, Franklin Sturgeon, clerk of Elkrun Township; secretary, Ernest Moser, clerk of Butler Township; executive committeeman, Alfred Stoudt, clerk of Hanover Township.

Stoudt is the outgoing president and Moser had served as secretary the past year.

The association is affiliated with the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks, with headquarters in Columbus.

The primary functions of the organization are those of legislation and education directed at better ways to meet the needs and demands of township government.

Chester Kiwanis Changes Dates Of Holiday Sessions

Due to the holiday season, two changes in meeting dates were announced when the Chester Kiwanis Club met Tuesday night in the City Hall.

The meetings will be held Dec. 23 and Dec. 30 at the City Hall, Robert Cooley, president, said.

Officers for 1969 will be installed Jan. 14 in the Chester Christian Church when "Ladies night" will be observed.

Donations were made to the Oak Glen post-prom party and in support of the March of Dimes campaign.

Guests were Gregg Knapp of Moundsville, lieutenant governor of the 1st District of Kiwanis, and John Carson of the Oak Glen Key Club.

Eighteen were present.

Alvin Fineman gave the invocation and Lloyd Mansfield led singing.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Lloyd P. May, 48, has been appointed health commissioner for the city of Zanesville and Muskingum and Guernsey counties. He succeeds Dr. Roderic O. Jones, who has taken a position with the Cambridge State Hospital.

Dr. May's appointment is effective Jan. 1. He currently is health commissioner of Delaware, Madison, Morrow and Union counties.

60 To Face Court Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Some 60 persons, many of them welfare mothers, who staged a sit-in Thursday at the Cuyahoga County Welfare Department building were to appear in Cleveland Municipal Court today on trespassing charges.

The demonstrators began their sit-in shortly after noon Thursday and vowed to "stay all night if necessary" unless welfare authorities agreed to demands for extra winter clothing money for children.

About nine demonstrators were charged with trespassing on the third and sixth floors of the building about 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The remainder of the group were allowed to stay on the ground floor of the building until it closed at 11 p. m., then they too were charged.

Police fingerprinted and photographed the demonstrators in the building while police vans waited outside to take those charged to Central Police Station where they signed personal bond papers and were released.

Police Chief Patrick L. Gerity supervised the mass arrest and booking operation.

There were no incidents as the demonstratrs were charged.

It was the second protest staged by the mothers who Monday held a five-hour sit-in at the offices.

The mothers turned in requests for clothing totaling some $24,000. The county allows each mother $5 clothing allowance per child at the start of the school year.

Welfare Director Eugene Burns told the demonstrators the county did not have the money to meet their requests.

Job Applications Being Sought By Ohioville Council

OHIOVILLE — Council announced Thursday night it still is accepting applications for the post of borough road foreman.

The applications are to be filed with Mrs. Emily Carroll, borough secretary.

Council will meet Saturday at 6:30 p. m. to discuss acceptance of several streets in Meadowbrook for maintenance.

The 1969 budget totaling $63,635 was given final approval.

Council also ordered 25 "No Dumping" signs. Firemen granted Council permission to have ashes stockpiled on the department's property on Route 168.

Council authorized the early payment of borough employes before Christmas.

A caucus will be held Dec. 30 to discuss general business. Councilman George Daniels presided. Bills totaling $8,849 were paid, including $6,890 to the H. R. Allen Co. for resurfacing borough roads.

Expects To Be Controversial VP

Agnew Predicts New Era Of Renaissance In States

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said today that just as he was a controversial candidate in the presidential campaign "there is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

Speaking in advance of President-elect Richard M. Nixon's arrival at the Republican governors' conference, Agnew predicted that the new GOP administration will provide "an era of renaissance for state governments" by giving them flexibility in spending federal grants.

Designated by Nixon as his liasion with state governors, Agnew gave voice to the complaints that the governors have been stacking up to present to Nixon, who is scheduled for a midday arrival. Aides said Nixon expects to talk to every GOP governor and those newly elected before and after he speaks at a formal conference state dinner tonight.

Agnew's remarks were prepared for delivery.

Agnew told his colleagues that they can expect him to meet their complaints that Washington parcels out federal grant money on an uneven basis and keeps its hand too rigidly on spending.

Agnew told a conference panel:

"I was a controversial governor. I have been a controversial candidate for vice president. There is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

"I do not intend to play games with the secret meaning of words nor practice the gentle art of the platitude. I do not intend to rely on dictionary definitions and (do intend) to call the shots as I see them. I think this is what Richard Nixon selected me to do and what the American people elected me to do."

In a speech that obviously passed through the Nixon clearing house and was stamped valid, Agnew came out in favor of block grants to the states. This would give them more leeway in spending federal funds.

Agnew said, there had developed "an unhealthy short circuit" between Washington and the cities which detoured state government control of programs.

"The Nixon administration looks with favor on the consolidation of the approximately 400 grants-in-aid programs now in existence." He said, "Everything is to be gained by reforming the present system, substituting the broad for the narrow."

He suggested formation of a "federal legislative-state executive committee" to give governors a voice in actions taken by congress which affect state budgets and administration of aid programs.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader, called on the governors to support electoral college reform to prevent what he said might be a future "deadly dangerous constitutional crisis" the country escaped when Nixon won a majority of the electoral votes.

The issue of block grants which Agnew endorsed headed the list of recommendations the Republican governors were piling up for Nixon's consideration.

What the governors want, Gov. Nelson A. Rockfeller of New York said in a conference paper, is a "nonproliferation treaty" with Washington against new, restrictive grants boosting the total of 220 programs which he said are now rigidly controlled by the federal government.

Retiring Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, the conference chairman, made clear, however, that the Republican governors are offering Nixon suggestions—and not demands.

Herbert G. Klein, chief of communications for the new administration, said he assumes that every governor who wants to discuss specific problems with the President-elect will get the chance before Nixon leaves for New York Saturday afternoon.

Klein said in an interview he is not looking for any announcement at this conference of Cabinet or other appointments. Nixon addresses the conference's state dinner tonight. There was no advance indication he planned any major pronouncements.

Although Nixon has designated Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the vice president-elect, as his liaison with the nations' governors, Agnew has played a quiet role at the conference. His answer to colleagues who have approached him with problems was reported to have been: take them to Nixon.

Not all of the governors agreed on just how the new President ought to go about correcting what Agnew said earlier was an unhappiness among them "about the implemention of existing federal-state relations.

Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California disagreed on the New York governor's proposal for setting a federal minimum standard for welfare payments.

Rockefeller proposed that the federal government take over all welfare costs, a move that would boost Washington's contribution in this field to about $4.3 billion. It now pays one-third.

Reagan said that living costs vary by state and a federal standard of relief payments would force them down in some areas and up in others. He said it was like "throwing the baby out with the bath just to say that in correcting an inequity in some place we're going to level a whole country."

The conference will elect a new chairman Saturday to replace Chafee, defeated for reelection last November.

Reagan was regarded as a leading contender. He told newsmen that several other governors had mentioned his name. There was support also for Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania. A vice chairman, to take over in 1970, also will be chosen and there seemed a possibility that Reagan and Shafer might divide the jobs.

Temperatures plummeted near zero from Montana to Minnesota before daybreak. The mercury shriveled to 1 above at Fargo, N.D., just after midnight.

The prewinter cold wave brought some of the lowest temperatures of the season to portions of the Midwest, and it scattered frost well into the deep South for the second day in a row.

Riding winds of 50 and 60 miles an hour, the cold swept across the midwest Thursday, scooped moisture out of the Great Lakes and flung heavy snow into portions of Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York.

Six deaths were attributed to the weather in New York State, where the upstate community of Boonville was hobbled by 15 inches of snow in 24 hours. This fell atop an earlier accumulation of 7 inches.

Residents of Clymer, in western New York, awoke to find a snowfall of 18 inches.

The high winds frequently toppled trees and power lines and left scattered power failures from Ohio to New York late Thursday. The northeastern Ohio community of Conneaut, along Lake Erie, remained without power through much of the night. Several hundred of its 11,000 residents lined up for soup and sandwiches at a Red Cross emergency center set up in a church.

Highway travel remained hazardous in spots through northeastern Ohio.

Ohioville Driver Hurt In Accident

An Ohioville man is in "fair" condition at Rochester General Hospital with injuries received in a near headon car-truck collision in Ohioville Thursday at 5:25 p. m. Both vehicles were demolished.

George Vujaklya of 120 Fairlane Dr., Meadowbrook Estates, suffered a concussion and fractures of the ribs in the mishap on Route 168 near Cow Hollow. He was operating a pickup truck.

Ohioville police said the car was operated by Virgil Wright of 31-D Midland Heights, Midland. Wright told police the truck went left of center. He said he swerved to avoid a collision.

Police said it required two and a half hours to clear the wreckage. Chief Bernard Zlatovich said he was assisted with traffic by several residents of the area.

Expects To Be Controversial VP

Agnew Predicts New Era Of Renaissance In States

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said today that just as he was a controversial candidate in the presidential campaign "there is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

Speaking in advance of President-elect Richard M. Nixon's arrival at the Republican governors' conference, Agnew predicted that the new GOP administration will provide "an era of renaissance for state governments" by giving them flexibility in spending federal grants.

Designated by Nixon as his liasion with state governors, Agnew gave voice to the complaints that the governors have been stacking up to present to Nixon, who is scheduled for a midday arrival. Aides said Nixon expects to talk to every GOP governor and those newly elected before and after he speaks at a formal conference state dinner tonight.

Agnew's remarks were prepared for delivery.

Agnew told his colleagues that they can expect him to meet their complaints that Washington parcels out federal grant money on an uneven basis and keeps its hand too rigidly on spending.

Agnew told a conference panel:

"I was a controversial governor. I have been a controversial candidate for vice president. There is no reason to believe that I will be any less controversial as vice president."

"I do not intend to play games with the secret meaning of words nor practice the gentle art of the platitude. I do not intend to rely on dictionary definitions and (do intend) to call the shots as I see them. I think this is what Richard Nixon selected me to do and what the American people elected me to do."

In a speech that obviously passed through the Nixon clearing house and was stamped valid, Agnew came out in favor of block grants to the states. This would give them more leeway in spending federal funds.

Agnew said, there had developed "an unhealthy short circuit" between Washington and the cities which detoured state government control of programs.

"The Nixon administration looks with favor on the consolidation of the approximately 400 grants-in-aid programs now in existence." He said, "Everything is to be gained by reforming the present system, substituting the broad for the narrow."

He suggested formation of a "federal legislative-state executive committee" to give governors a voice in actions taken by congress which affect state budgets and administration of aid programs.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader, called on the governors to support electoral college reform to prevent what he said might be a future "deadly dangerous constitutional crisis" the country escaped when Nixon won a majority of the electoral votes.

The issue of block grants which Agnew endorsed headed the list of recommendations the Republican governors were piling up for Nixon's consideration.

What the governors want, Gov. Nelson A. Rockfeller of New York said in a conference paper, is a "nonproliferation treaty" with Washington against new, restrictive grants boosting the total of 220 programs which he said are now rigidly controlled by the federal government.

Retiring Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, the conference chairman, made clear, however, that the Republican governors are offering Nixon suggestions—and not demands.

Herbert G. Klein, chief of communications for the new administration, said he assumes that every governor who wants to discuss specific problems with the President-elect will get the chance before Nixon leaves for New York Saturday afternoon.

Klein said in an interview he is not looking for any announcement at this conference of Cabinet or other appointments. Nixon addresses the conference's state dinner tonight. There was no advance indication he planned any major pronouncements.

Although Nixon has designated Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the vice president-elect, as his liaison with the nations' governors, Agnew has played a quiet role at the conference. His answer to colleagues who have approached him with problems was reported to have been: take them to Nixon.

Not all of the governors agreed on just how the new President ought to go about correcting what Agnew said earlier was an unhappiness among them "about the implemention of existing federal-state relations.

Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California disagreed on the New York governor's proposal for setting a federal minimum standard for welfare payments.

Rockefeller proposed that the federal government take over all welfare costs, a move that would boost Washington's contribution in this field to about $4.3 billion. It now pays one-third.

Reagan said that living costs vary by state and a federal standard of relief payments would force them down in some areas and up in others. He said it was like "throwing the baby out with the bath just to say that in correcting an inequity in some place we're going to level a whole country."

The conference will elect a new chairman Saturday to replace Chafee, defeated for re-election last November.

Reagan was regarded as a leading contender. He told newsmen that several other governors had mentioned his name. There was support also for Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania. A vice chairman, to take over in 1970, also will be chosen and there seemed a possibility that Reagan and Shafer might divide the jobs.

Report From An Anchorman

"You could recite the Lord's Prayer on TV and some viewers would think you were against religion," says Frank Reynolds, who took over the anchor spot from Peter Jennings on ABC's weekday news six months ago.

Hal Humphrey

Reynolds, who joined ABC in 1963 after 12 years with CBS in Chicago, has been given more freedom to commient on the news than his opposites on NBC and CBS and, as a result, has stirred up considerable reaction among viewers.

-:-

A WEEK BEFORE the recent election he did a piece on Richard Nixon and the strain he was under to "hold on" until it would all be over. Reynolds' observation came from traveling with Nixon, and he insists it was an objective appraisal.

"But a lot of people thought I'd attacked Nixon. Even our affiliated TV station in Miami did an editorial taking me to task for this," says Reynolds.

As much as possible he avoids the mail and other public reaction to his newscasts.

"If I paid attention to it, I'd find myself doing the show for the most vociferous segments of viewers," he says.

-:-

IT IS INTERESTING to note here that Reynolds used the word "show" when referring to his news program. Most TV newsmen, including CBS' Walter Cronkite and NBC's David Brinkley, have said that TV news has become too personalized, and Reynolds agrees.

As he points out, it's a matter of which comes first — style or substance. On TV it would seem to be a man's style which attracts the viewer first.

"Maybe they shouldn't be called 'news programs' at all," adds Reynolds. "First of all, TV tries to do too much on them. We can't possibly compete with a good newspaper, or even try. I think we should deal with fewer topics each night."

-:-

AS A NEWSMAN Reynolds winces when he sees the promotion advertising for his program. It has the line "Get All the News," but TV doesn't come even close to doing that.

"There's no doubt that show business gets in our way. If we have a choice between Sen. Everett Dirksen or Congressman Gerald Ford to interview, we naturally pick Dirksen with that voice and style of his," says Reynolds.

He insists there's been no management censorship over the way he's running the program, although he admits there may have been some things he has done which the management has regretted.

-:-

"THEY'VE NEVER said anything, though. A couple of vice presidents raised their voices when Howard Cossell, our sports editor, blasted the Olympic committee for suspending Negro track men Tommie Smith and John Carlos after their demonstration in Mexico.

"But they didn't try to stop Howard, and this was in spite of the deal ABC had to telecast the Olympic Games," reports Reynolds.

When Reynolds, who was ABC's White House correspondent at the time, was asked to become the anchorman in New York, his first reaction was a pleading, "Why me?" He really didn't want to take the job.

-:-

"I KNEW I'd miss out on things like the trip we took with President Johnson to Australia for Prime Minister Harold Holt's funeral, then on to Vietnam and Rome for the presidential visit to the Pope, which was set up while we were en route. We did all this from a Tuesday to Sunday when we arrived back in Washington," recalls Reynolds, wistfully.

He says now, however, that he does find satisfaction in "putting it all together" in New York. At the same time Reynolds, like his predecessor Peter Jennings, hopes ABC will let him out of the studio once in a while to cover a story.

It was his work as floor reporter at the 1964 political conventions in San Francisco and Atlantic City which brought Reynolds to the attention of the network bosses in New York. If his ratings as anchor man continue to climb as they have in Boston, Pittsburgh and Kansas City, he'll never be a floor reporter again.

Kiwanians Told Of 'Growth' Of Paper At Lisbon

LISBON — Pete Geiger, local newspaper reporter, told fellow Kiwanians Thursday about the Buckeye Publishing Co., which has grown from a 10-man shop three years ago to a major local industry with 34 employes, most of them full time.

The company, a Frew family enterprise for four generations, bought offset equipment three years ago. It now prints 24 different newspapers a week, including its own Lisbon Evening Journal — a daily since 1909, and the Central Shopper mailed free weekly to boxholders on rural routes.

Geiger said expansion is continuing. Buckeye expects delivery of a new press today and will take over the Neikirk storeroom next door in the Buckeye building early next year. "We will have the ability to print full color in a single run," Geiger said.

Buckeye prints 4,368,000 papers per year, buys paper in carload lots — 280 tons every 30 days — has an annual payroll of more than $100,000 and a yearly postage bill of $25,000. The firm has invested $150,000 in new machinery alone in the last three years, Geiger said.

A. Monty Muntean, president, presided for the meeting in the Daughters of America Hall. Bennett D. Taylor Jr., program chairman for December and president-elect, introduced the speaker.

Students To Hold Panel Session At Lisbon Jan. 12

LISBON — A panel of Kent State University students will discuss "Unrest—Threat or Promise" during a public meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 12 in the high school auditorium.

The program is the first activity of a committee on citizenship and patriotism comprised of representatives of 10 local civic and youth organizations.

Plans were completed at a committee meeting Wednesday night at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The program will include music, prayer and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Panelists will present views from the radical left to the conservative right and answer questions from the audience.

Tickets may be purchased through the churches, schools and civic and youth groups.

Organizations represented on the committee are the Ruritan, Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Jaycees, Lisbon Ministerial Association, Y-Teens, Key Club, American Legion and Lisbon Grange.

Porpoises are far more intelligent than fish and more so than many kinds of mammals. Their intelligence is higher than a dog's and possibly equal to that of the chimpanzee.

Clinic Will Hold Christmas Party

STEUBENVILLE — The annual Christmas party for the Mental Health Volunteers of Jefferson County will be held Dec. 13 at the clinic here.

Appearing on the program will be dancers from the Steubenville Arts Academy and the Steubenville Barbershop Quartet.

Two lectures are scheduled at the clinic. Tuesday at 8 p.m. Dr. F. J. Manalac, psychiatric-director, will speak on "Psychology of Alcoholism in The Tri-State Area and in Industry."

On Dec. 17 at 1:30 p.m., Miss Carolyn Stokes, psychiatric social worker, will be the lecturer.

Lisbon Bands Will Present Yule Concert

LISBON — Approximately 120 members of the Lincoln Junior High and David Anderson High School bands will present a Christmas concert at 3 p. m. Sunday in the high school gymnasium.

There will be no charge. "This is the band's gift to the people of Lisbon," said David May, director.

The 50-piece Lincoln band will open the program with four selections. The high school band will play eight numbers.

Following intermission, the majorettes will give routines used at three football games.

May, a former organ instructor, will conclude the program with three selections on the organ, assisted by Mark Gray, drummer.

Red, white and gold decorations will be used on the stage. There will be four large Christmas trees hung with white styrofoam balls, 24 gold waterfalls and 40,000 red feathers in white styrofoam backing.

The Namaz, recited five times daily, is the chief prayer of the Mohammedans.

6 More Aspirants Report On Campaign's Expenses

Six more candidates who sought office in the Nov. 5 general election, along with some of the committees which supported them, have filed with the County Election Board the required sworn statements of their campaign expenses.

The deadline for the reports falls Friday, Dec. 20, as 4 p.m., the aspirants were reminded by Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections. They must be furnished by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

—:—

THE LARGEST single expense statement in the latest group of filings was entered by the Longsworth for Senate Committee. The committee said it spent $5,644.85 in support of the unsuccessful bid for a second term made by State Sen. John R. Longsworth of Salem, Republican. The committee report was filed by Alfred L. Fitch, financial chairman.

Longsworth filed an individual report showing personal expenditures of $888.68 in the campaign.

Recorder John Wargo of Lisbon, Democrat named to a second term, reported personal expenditures of $335.59. The Wargo for Recorder Committee, of which Ida Austin was chairman, showed expenses of $421.37.

Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool, Republican, said he spent $785.42 in his successful bid for the county engineer's post. The Dawson for Engineer Committee filed a report showing expenses of $968.20. It was filed by G. William Brokaw, chairman.

—:—

JOHN URSU of Salem, Democrat, who was defeated in a bid for a second term as county engineer, reported personal expenditures of $463.18. The Ursu for Engineer Committee listed expenditures of $477.90. The report was filed by Kenneth Bell, as chairman.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, named to a new term, listed expenses of $860.90.

Robert J. Dutcher of Salem RD 3, unsuccessful Republican aspirant for clerk of courts, showed expenditures of $803.43.

Miss Resnick pointed out that state law bars a candidate from seeking office again for five years if he fails to file the required statement before the deadline. The statements must be accompanied by receipts for each expenditure over $25.

In addition, the Election Board is barred by law from issuing a certificate of election to any successful aspirant who fails to file a report. Without the certificate, the official-elect cannot qualify to assume office.

Yule Event Held By Dental Group

The Harmonettes — Beverly McKinzie, Pat Swisher and Jo-Ann Vannoy — presented entertainment during the Christmas social meeting of the East Liverpool district dental society Thursday evening at the Country Club.

Twenty-four were present, including the wives of members.

Three indivdual tables, with eight at each, were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season and green and red centerpieces completed the settings at the three tables.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, who presided, said that regular meetings will resume in January.

Police Chief To Quit After 29-Year Service

CINCINNATI (AP) — Norwood Police Chief Charles Fritz announced Thursday he will retire Dec. 28 after holding the post 29 years.

Fritz will be 65 in about two months and on Dec. 26 will complete 42 years with the police department.

THE GIRARD PERREGAUX HIGH-FREQUENCY CHRONOMETER —MOST PRECISE IN THE WORLD

A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH IN THE FIELD OF PRECISION TIMEKEEPING

GUARANTEED TO KEEP TIME WITHIN 1 MINUTE A MONTH

The Girard Perregaux high-frequency chronometer represents one of the greatest achievements in the advancement of the classic mechanical watch. The beats of the balance-wheel/hairspring system have been increased to 36,000 per hour (twice that of ordinary watches) assuring exceptional accuracy and minimizing the effect of shock and other disturbances. Many other new engineering concepts are incorporated in this high-frequency movement, and yet it can be serviced by any qualified watchmaker. It took years of research by Girard Perregaux technicians to develop and produce this high-frequency chronometer. The exceptional results achieved are attested to by the factory written guarantee assuring 0.002% of absolute precision in normal wear.

Watch shown, enlarged: high-frequency chronometer, self-winding, 39 jewels, adjusted to 5 positions and temperature, water-resistant. In stainless steel, $175. In 18K gold, $395. Other model in 18K gold, $275.

Students To Hold Panel Session At Lisbon Jan. 12

LISBON — A panel of Kent State University students will discuss "Unrest—Threat or Promise" during a public meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 12 in the high school auditorium.

The program is the first activity of a committee on citizenship and patriotism comprised of representatives of 10 local civic and youth organizations.

Plans were completed at a committee meeting Wednesday night at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The program will include music, prayer and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Panelists will present views from the radical left to the conservative right and answer questions from the audience.

Tickets may be purchased through the churches, schools and civic and youth groups.

Organizations represented on the committee are the Ruritan, Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Jaycees, Lisbon Ministerial Association, Y-Teens, Key Club, American Legion and Lisbon Grange.

Porpoises are far more intelligent than fish and more so than many kinds of mammals. Their intelligence is higher than a dog's and possibly equal to that of the chimpanzee.

Clinic Will Hold Christmas Party

STEUBENVILLE — The annual Christmas party for the Mental Health Volunteers of Jefferson County will be held Dec. 13 at the clinic here.

Appearing on the program will be dancers from the Steubenville Arts Academy and the Steubenville Barbershop Quartet.

Two lectures are scheduled at the clinic. Tuesday at 8 p.m. Dr. F. J. Manalac, psychiatric-director, will speak on "Psychology of Alcoholism in The Tri-State Area and in Industry."

On Dec. 17 at 1:30 p.m., Miss Carolyn Stokes, psychiatric social worker, will be the lecturer.

Lisbon Bands Will Present Yule Concert

LISBON — Approximately 120 members of the Lincoln Junior High and David Anderson High School bands will present a Christmas concert at 3 p. m. Sunday in the high school gymnasium.

There will be no charge. "This is the band's gift to the people of Lisbon," said David May, director.

The 50-piece Lincoln band will open the program with four selections. The high school band will play eight numbers.

Following intermission, the majorettes will give routines used at three football games.

May, a former organ instructor, will conclude the program with three selections on the organ, assisted by Mark Gray, drummer.

Red, white and gold decorations will be used on the stage. There will be four large Christmas trees hung with white styrofoam balls, 24 gold waterfalls and 40,000 red feathers in white styrofoam backing.

The Namaz, recited five times daily, is the chief prayer of the Mohammedans.

6 More Aspirants Report On Campaign's Expenses

Six more candidates who sought office in the Nov. 5 general election, along with some of the committees which supported them, have filed with the County Election Board the required sworn statements of their campaign expenses.

The deadline for the reports falls Friday, Dec. 20, as 4 p.m., the aspirants were reminded by Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections. They must be furnished by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

—:—

THE LARGEST single expense statement in the latest group of filings was entered by the Longsworth for Senate Committee. The committee said it spent $5,644.85 in support of the unsuccessful bid for a second term made by State Sen. John R. Longsworth of Salem, Republican. The committee report was filed by Alfred L. Fitch, financial chairman.

Longsworth filed an individual report showing personal expenditures of $888.68 in the campaign.

Recorder John Wargo of Lisbon, Democrat named to a second term, reported personal expenditures of $335.59. The Wargo for Recorder Committee, of which Ida Austin was chairman, showed expenses of $421.37.

Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool, Republican, said he spent $785.42 in his successful bid for the county engineer's post. The Dawson for Engineer Committee filed a report showing expenses of $968.20. It was filed by G. William Brokaw, chairman.

—:—

JOHN URSU of Salem, Democrat, who was defeated in a bid for a second term as county engineer, reported personal expenditures of $463.18. The Ursu for Engineer Committee listed expenditures of $477.90. The report was filed by Kenneth Bell, as chairman.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, named to a new term, listed expenses of $860.90.

Robert J. Dutcher of Salem RD 3, unsuccessful Republican aspirant for clerk of courts, showed expenditures of $803.43.

Miss Resnick pointed out that state law bars a candidate from seeking office again for five years if he fails to file the required statement before the deadline. The statements must be accompanied by receipts for each expenditure over $25.

In addition, the Election Board is barred by law from issuing a certificate of election to any successful aspirant who fails to file a report. Without the certificate, the official-elect cannot qualify to assume office.

Yule Event Held By Dental Group

The Harmonettes — Beverly McKinzie, Pat Swisher and Jo-Ann Vannoy — presented entertainment during the Christmas social meeting of the East Liverpool district dental society Thursday evening at the Country Club.

Twenty-four were present, including the wives of members.

Three indivdual tables, with eight at each, were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season and green and red centerpieces completed the settings at the three tables.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, who presided, said that regular meetings will resume in January.

Police Chief To Quit After 29-Year Service

CINCINNATI (AP) — Norwood Police Chief Charles Fritz announced Thursday he will retire Dec. 28 after holding the post 29 years.

Fritz will be 65 in about two months and on Dec. 26 will complete 42 years with the police department.

THE GIRARD PERREGAUX HIGH-FREQUENCY CHRONOMETER —MOST PRECISE IN THE WORLD

A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH IN THE FIELD OF PRECISION TIMEKEEPING

GUARANTEED TO KEEP TIME WITHIN 1 MINUTE A MONTH

GIRARD PERREGAUX
Fine Watches since 1791

The Girard Perregaux high-frequency chronometer represents one of the greatest achievements in the advancement of the classic mechanical watch. The beats of the balance-wheel/hairspring system have been increased to 36,000 per hour (twice that of ordinary watches) assuring exceptional accuracy and minimizing the effect of shock and other disturbances. Many other new engineering concepts are incorporated in this high-frequency movement, and yet it can be serviced by any qualified watchmaker. It took years of research by Girard Perregaux technicians to develop and produce this high-frequency chronometer. The exceptional results achieved are attested to by the factory written guarantee assuring 0.002% of absolute precision in normal wear.

Watch shown, enlarged: high-frequency chronometer, self-winding, 39 jewels, adjusted to 5 positions and temperature, water-resistant. In stainless steel, $175. In 18K gold, $395. Other model in 18K gold, $275.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The hippies make Ding Dong agree to capture Santa Claus. Edgar the elf comes down to take him to Santa Land.

CHAPTER 5

Edgar glared at Ding Dong. "Are you going to Santa Land like that?"

"Like what?" asked Ding Dong, surprised.

"Unwashed and your shirt tail hanging out and your hair in your eyes. You're a sight. Santa Claus won't like it at all."

"I don't cart," retorted Ding Dong. He was glad, after all, that the hippies were going to capture Santa because it was a shame, it really was, that all the kids in the world had to be good just to please a square like that.

—:—

EDGAR sniffed with disapproval. He led Ding Dong outside and gave him a blindfold to tie around his eyes. "Take four steps forward," ordered the elf. Ding Dong obeyed.

Suddenly the ground beneath his feet heaved up and down like ocean waves. A great wind swept him round and round. Snowflakes peppered his face.

In a moment it was over. The ground steadied. The wind died away. Ding Dong pulled the blindfold from his eyes and there he was in Santa Land standing before Santa's own house.

Ding Dong ran up the steps and rang the bell. Mrs. Claus came to the door.

"My goodness gracious!" she exclaimed. She stared at Ding Dong as if she couldn't believe her eyes. "What are you? I mean — who are you? I mean— oh dear! I don't know what I mean!"

"Ive come to see Santa Claus," announced Ding Dong.

"I'm a hippie," said Ding Dong stiffly.

"A hippie! My goodness! A hippie! Oh, do come in!" Mrs. Claus led Ding Dong into the house and down the hall to the living room where Santa himself sat at his desk before the fire. "Santa! Here's a hippie come to call!"

—:—

SANTA got up from the stack of letters he had been reading.

"Welcome to Santa Land," said Santa.

He smiled and held out his arms. "You must be Henry Weatherspoon. Welcome to Santa Land!"

Ding Dong sideslipped through Santa's arms. He was sure the next thing Santa would say was "Have you been good?" and that's one thing he didn't want to hear.

But Santa didn't say that at all. And he didn't say anything about Ding Dong's messed - up hair or his dirty face or the way his socks drooped over his untied shoes.

Nor did he seem to mind when Ding Dong demanded rather rudely to know how Santa knew his name.

"I've heard a lot about you," replied Santa. "And, of course, I was expecting you. I hope you will like it in Santa Land. While I finish up these letters go anywhere you like. There are many things here you might enjoy."

"He'll go nowhere until he's had something to eat," snapped Mrs. Claus and she hustled Ding Dong off to the kitchen.

—:—

POOR Ding Dong! His stomach quivered and his face turned green when Mrs. Claus laid out pizzas and soda pop and fried potatoes and chocolate pies and all the things she thought a hippie might like to eat.

How could Ding Dong confess that after two weeks in Hippieville what he most wanted now was a plate of spinach and a soft boiled egg?

Rep. Bolton Describes Terms In Congress As 'Wonderful'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A grandmotherly member of Congress, Ohio's Frances P. Bolton who was defeated for re-election, says her terms in Congress since 1940 have been "wonderful years."

The 83 - year - old Republican said Thursday, "I have no plans," when asked what she would do when she gives up her seat to Rep. Charles A. Vanik D-Ohio, who decided to run in her district.

However, she said her immediate intentions are to spend Christmas at her home in Cleveland with a large group of relatives then go on to Palm Beach, Fla., where she has another home.

Discussing the changes in Congress since she first came to the House, Mrs. Bolton expressed distress at the steadily mounting national debt.

She took a partisan stab at the Democrats in Congress, saying they "are not responsible with anything fiscal," but immediately amended her statement to exempt Rep. Wilber Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, "and others like him."

President - elect Richard M. Nixon, she said "is going to have a rough time" with the Democratically-controlled new Congress and added, "he is going to have to get along with it. I see no reason why he will not do a good job."

She said that Nixon had "very much matured" since his defeat in the 1960 presidential race.

"It doesn't hurt anybody to be defeated," she said. "I think he has grown very much."

Mrs. Bolton, the top Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said she does not know how Nixon will get along in seeking an end to the war in Vietnam, but added she was sure that he will not give up on any material matter.

"It is not in Nixon's bones to give up America," she said. "I think we will get our boys back —although not right away. He will not sell out America's interests."

Mrs. Bolton said the United States should never have been involved in a military way in Vietnam. She said that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told her "that we should never get into a ground war in Asia."

Mrs. Bolton, who succeeded to the House upon the death of her husband, said she had agreed to run when asked if she was interested, "and then grew terribly interested and stayed."

Gilligan Pops Into Political Arena Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—John Gilligan popped back into the political arena Thursday as a possible candidate for a post with the coming Nixon administration, or as Democratic national chairman.

The former U.S. Representative, defeated Nov. 5 in a bid for a U.S. Senate seat from Ohio, said he received "what I suppose was a formal letter" that was signed by President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

"As you may know, I have pledged to bring to this administration men and women who by their qualities, youthfulness, judgment, intelligence and creativity can make significant contributions to our country," Gilligan said the letter read.

Gilligan said the letter did not specify a position but "I was invited to fill out a job application."

Laughing, Gilligan commented, "I understand he hasn't filled out his cabinet yet."

Gilligan, who said after his Nov. 5 defeat that he had no future political plans, claimed that he has never met Nixon, nor talked to him..

Earlier in the day at a student assembly at the University of Cincinnati, U.S. Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D., disclosed Gilligan is his choice for national chairman of the Democratic party.

"If the party is to reconstruct and redeem itself, we need John Gilligan's talents," McGovern commented.

Gilligan said he is not seeking the post now held by Lawrence O'Brien. "But if it is to be more than just a job at a Washington desk, then, yes, I would consider it."

Gilligan also said that he had been informed second hand that U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., has talked to a few people about him in connection with the chairmanship from which O'Brien said he plans to resign.

Veteran Actor Dies At 54 Of Liver Ailment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Clark, a veteran character actor who played the explosive boss or a neighbor with a slow-burn, died of a liver ailment Thursday night after a month's hospitalization.

An accomplished dramatic actor, he first became known to millions as the television neighbor of Burns and Allen, showing uncontrolled indignation at the late Gracie Allen's antics.

Clark, 54 was a California native who went into acting with a scholarship award by the American Academy of Dramatic Art. By the 1950s he was a firmly typed actor.

Tall and bald, with a brush mustache, he was a hit in "Don't Go Near the Water," "The Mating Game" and many others.

A spokesman at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where Clark was admitted Nov. 7 for treatment of a back spasm, said the actor was suffering from "back derangement and a liver ailment."

Clark costarred with Red Buttons in a TV series called "The Secret Life of Henry Phyfe."

In the Burns and Allen series on TV, his wife was played by Bea Benaderet, who died earlier this year.

Ohioan Killed, 3 Others Injured In Plane Crash

NEWFOUNDLAND, N. J. (AP) — A Dayton, Ohio, businessman was killed and three other Dayton residents were injured Thursday when their private plane crashed near two homes in northern New Jersey during a snowstorm.

Donald Scanlon, 30, board chairman of Beef 'N' Beer Enterprises, a chain of restaurants, died.

In fair condition in a New Jersey hospital are William Coen, 41, a lawyer and the pilot of the plane, Joseph Benezra, 50, the copilot, and Dorothy Ballard, 27.

Witnesses said the plane, a Piper Comanche, apparently had engine trouble. The plane skimmed over some trees and crashed into the backyard between the two homes. No one on the ground was injured.

Rep. Taft Plans Trip To Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, is planning a trip to the Far East later this month to take a look at U.S. foreign aid programs.

The trip, to be financed at his own expense, will include a study of economic and political developments in India, Indonesia, the Philippines, and other South East Asian countries.

Taft, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, plans to take along his son Jonatron, 14, and daughter, Deborah, 22. They will leave New York Dec. 18 and be back in the United States Jan. 5.

He hopes the trip will give him a chance to hold a family reunion with his oldest son, Robert A. Taft II, 26, who serves with the Agency for International Development, and his daughter-in-law, Hope Taft, who is working with an American firm in Bangkok.

At 1967 prices, a U.S. silver dollar contains about $1.31 worth of silver.

Gilligan Pops Into Political Arena Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—John Gilligan popped back into the political arena Thursday as a possible candidate for a post with the coming Nixon administration, or as Democratic national chairman.

The former U.S. Representative, defeated Nov. 5 in a bid for a U.S. Senate seat from Ohio, said he received "what I suppose was a formal letter" that was signed by President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

"As you may know, I have pledged to bring to this administration men and women who by their qualities, youthfulness, judgment, intelligence and creativity can make significant contributions to our country," Gilligan said the letter read.

Gilligan said the letter did not specify a position but "I was invited to fill out a job application."

Laughing, Gilligan commented, "I understand he hasn't filled out his cabinet yet."

Gilligan, who said after his Nov. 5 defeat that he had no future political plans, claimed that he has never met Nixon, nor talked to him..

Earlier in the day at a student assembly at the University of Cincinnati, U.S. Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D., disclosed Gilligan is his choice for national chairman of the Democratic party.

"If the party is to reconstruct and redeem itself, we need John Gilligan's talents," McGovern commented.

Gilligan said he is not seeking the post now held by Lawrence O'Brien. "But if it is to be more than just a job at a Washington desk, then, yes, I would consider it."

Gilligan also said that he had been informed second hand that U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., has talked to a few people about him in connection with the chairmanship from which O'Brien said he plans to resign.

Veteran Actor Dies At 54 Of Liver Ailment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Clark, a veteran character actor who played the explosive boss or a neighbor with a slow-burn, died of a liver ailment Thursday night after a month's hospitalization.

An accomplished dramatic actor, he first became known to millions as the television neighbor of Burns and Allen, showing uncontrolled indignation at the late Gracie Allen's antics.

Clark, 54 was a California native who went into acting with a scholarship award by the American Academy of Dramatic Art. By the 1950s he was a firmly typed actor.

Tall and bald, with a brush mustache, he was a hit in "Don't Go Near the Water," "The Mating Game" and many others.

A spokesman at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where Clark was admitted Nov. 7 for treatment of a back spasm, said the actor was suffering from "back derangement and a liver ailment."

Clark costarred with Red Buttons in a TV series called "The Secret Life of Henry Phyfe."

In the Burns and Allen series on TV, his wife was played by Bea Benaderet, who died earlier this year.

Ohioan Killed, 3 Others Injured In Plane Crash

NEWFOUNDLAND, N. J. (AP) — A Dayton, Ohio, businessman was killed and three other Dayton residents were injured Thursday when their private plane crashed near two homes in northern New Jersey during a snowstorm.

Donald Scanlon, 30, board chairman of Beef 'N' Beer Enterprises, a chain of restaurants, died.

In fair condition in a New Jersey hospital are William Coen, 41, a lawyer and the pilot of the plane, Joseph Benezra, 50, the copilot, and Dorothy Ballard, 27.

Witnesses said the plane, a Piper Comanche, apparently had engine trouble. The plane skimmed over some trees and crashed into the backyard between the two homes. No one on the ground was injured.

Rep. Taft Plans Trip To Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, is planning a trip to the Far East later this month to take a look at U.S. foreign aid programs.

The trip, to be financed at his own expense, will include a study of economic and political developments in India, Indonesia, the Philippines, and other South East Asian countries.

Taft, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, plans to take along his son Jonatron, 14, and daughter, Deborah, 22. They will leave New York Dec. 18 and be back in the United States Jan. 5.

He hopes the trip will give him a chance to hold a family reunion with his oldest son, Robert A. Taft II, 26, who serves with the Agency for International Development, and his daughter-in-law, Hope Taft, who is working with an American firm in Bangkok.

At 1967 prices, a U.S. silver dollar contains about $1.31 worth of silver.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Another Tip For Holidays

DEAR HELOISE: I made a fabulous Christmas wreath for the outside of my large picture window.

I used a large hula-hoop and eight yards of red nylon net.

Cut the net into strips across the width about six inches wide.

Then using dental floss (because it is stronger than thread), I gathered one side of each strip and tied them around the hula-hoop.

By pushing the individual gathered pieces close together you can have a fuller wreath.

Any color net can be used and small ornaments or other decorations attached to the wreath to make it even prettier.

I hung this with a string nailed to the top of the frame on the outside of the window. And because it's nylon net, I have no worry about damage from weather.

MRS. RAYMOND WILSON.

DEAR HELOISE: During the holiday season I usually bake cakes for my neighbors. I make regular pineapple-upside-down cakes and bake them in meat loaf pans, square or round casserole dishes.

Then decorate 'em with green and red cherries, sometimes even making "poinsettias" with the red ones.

It's a change from traditional fruit cake and at the same time, by using pineapple, pecans and cherries it still has some fruit.

MRS. MIKE LOZANO.

And just who can't use a good cake through the holidays? And we don't have to eat our own cooking. . . .

You just must be a good neighbor. Wish you were mine, I'd trade you one of my chocolate pies.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Fill an ordinary metal tea caddy with whole cloves and hang it on the framework of your most-used-lamps—inside the shades and near the bulb.

The heat from the bulb activates the fragrance and your home will be filled with a delightful aroma.

BERNIE BOYCE.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: When you feel tense, worried or blue, start a happiness box. . . .

Clip out of magazines or newspapers all the things that make you laugh. Write down a thought, a joke that amuses you, the happiest moment in your life, etc., and place these all inside a small box labeled "Happiness Box."

I might warn you, though, if you start with a pint-size container, you'll soon need a larger one and let's hope you end up with a barrel!

GRANDMA.

DEAR HELOISE: The three rows of cellophane or plastic inside a package of chocolae cream-filled cookies make a neat holder for small, size 50 spools of thread. When this is placed in a cigar box it makes a convenient thread box.

MRS. ANDREW LACKO.

DEAR HELOISE: We give our two boys one of their Christmas gifts the first Monday of Christmas vacation from school.

This way they have something to interest them until Christmas and everything isn't new at once.

This year it's sidewalk skates.

This has been such a help to us.

MR. W. C. DIXON.

DEAR HELOISE: When I go shopping and take a shopping bag, I place the lid of a shoebox in the bottom to reinforce it.

Sure makes it a lot sturdier and easier to handle.

JANE MILLER.

In Chicago Street Disorders

Yippie Says House Panel Fears What He'll Divulge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yippie leader Jerry Rubin says House members investigating the Chicago street disorders don't want him to appear in open session because they fear what he'll say.

Rubin, who was tossed out of a session earlier this week because he wore a Santa Claus suit, said Thursday he wouldn't testify at today's hearings chaired by Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., unless they were open to the press and public.

The special subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said Rubin was called to testify in closed session because he faces charges in Illinois for solicitation to commit mob action during demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention.

The subcommittee has held hearings all week long into disturbances at the August convention.

Rubin was permitted in the hearing room Thursday when he arrived wearing a blue sweater, brown slacks and a beaded band around his forehead beneath a full head of bushy dark hair. He also has a full beard.

In a statement distributed Thursday, Rubin said:

"The inquisitors have demanded that I take the stand Friday behind locked doors—closed to the press and public. They know that I will expose them as the fools, racists cowards that they are. I will not say a word to HUAC unless the doors are opened and the press and the public admitted."

The subcommittee also heard Thursday from David Dellinger, a leader of the Chicago demonstrations who is chairman of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

He told questioners that his group met in Cambridge, Mass., last October at which time the current HUAC inquiry and other investigations were discussed.

Dellinger said he told people there he had been questioned by the FBI, which he characterized as interested in only actions by demonstrators.

Dellinger refused to answer other questions about the October meeting.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Most everyone regards the 714 lifetime home runs slugged by Babe Ruth as an unassailable lifetime baseball record.

Willie Mays is driving for the 600 mark, but it is extremely unlikely that his career will continue long enough for him to match Ruth's output.

Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings is building a mark just as unassailable. In Pittsburgh Wednesday night, Howe scored his 700th lifetime National Hockey League goal, and at the age of 40 he is still going strong. Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, retired, is next on the all-time list with a mere 544. Bobby Hull of Chicago, the current hockey super-star, has only 430.

Howe on skates is poetry in motion. He makes everything he does look effortless, but is not afraid to give and take a few hard checks.

THE AMAZING thing about Howe is his consistency. He has been in the top five scoring in the NHL the last 19 years, an almost unparalleled feat.

Howe inspires devotion in Detroit fans. One man at the ticket window was heard to remark Wednesday night, "Give me the best seat you have. I've come all the way from Detroit to see 700." He wasn't disappointed.

The Penguin fans were disappointed, however, although the crowd gave Howe a standing ovation when he reached his milestone. The locals scored first, but Howe's goal evened the score and then coach Red Sullivan made a big mistake. Bill Speer, who had been injured for most of the season, was playing defense and doing a good job. But Sullivan put in Noel Price, who, if not the worst player on the Penguins, is certainly the least liked by the fans. A chorus of boos greeted Price's emergence on the ice, and sure enough, Detroit quickly scored and was off winging to a 7-2 win.

"GET OFF the ice, Price, and give us a chance," was one of the milder taunts hurled by the arena crowd. Referee Ron Wicks came in for a few barbs, the best being, "Wicks are only good for candles." Some faithful fans, in honor of the Penguins six-game unbeaten string, had a sign saying "Puck It To 'em Penguins," but this was taken down when the game got out of reach.

DENNIS KLEMBARA had a fine freshman football season at Youngstown U., breaking six school records and tying one. The former Beaver Local ace hit 121 of 280 passes for 1,855 yards and 16 TDs. The attempts, completions and TD passes were single season records. He also set single game marks by passing for 391 yards against Pensacola NAS, attempting 54 passes against Akron and completing 24 against Southern Illinois. The four TD passes against Pensacola tied a record. Youngstown, playing mostly freshmen and sophomores, ended 3-6.

Bullets Stop Lakers, Regain NBA Lead

By The Associated Press

Want to know how to control Los Angeles' rampaging Lakers? Just stop Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West.

Sounds impossible? Well, the Baltimore Bullets did just that Wednesday night and rode a 108-90 victory over the Lakers back into first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The Bullets' tenacious defense completely checked the Lakers' super trio, who spent the last five minutes of the game sitting on the bench next to disgusted Coach Butch van Breda Kolff.

Jack Martin held Elgin Baylor to only 16 points, while Chamberlain managed only 17 and West 20. Chamberlain scored only five points in the second half and grabbed just four of his 21 rebounds after intermission while Baltimore was building a big lead.

Philadelphia sailed past Chicago 109-92 in the night's only other NBA game.

The victory was the 20th in 27 games for the Bullets, who moved a full game ahead of Boston in the Eastern race. The setback snapped the Lakers' three-game victory streak, but Los Angeles still has a five-game lead in the Western Division.

Earl Monroe led the winners with 26 points while rookie Wes Unseld grabbed 27 rebounds in outplaying Chamberlain.

The Lakers, forced to take many shots from way out of range because of Baltimore's overpowering defense, trailed 50-43 at halftime. Then Baltimore broke it open in the third quarter when Gus Johnson scored 12 of his 17 points and Unself snared nine of his rebounds.

It also was a frustrating night for Chicago Coach Dick Motta, who benched his two 7-foot centers for the entire second half. Tom Boerwinkle had only five points and Dave Newmark was held scoreless in a first half that saw the Bulls hit only 11 of 53 shots while Philadelphia roared to a 62-29 lead.

Chicago managed to cut the gap to 13 points in the final quarter, however, as Bob Boozer scored 24 of his 33 points.

Bill Cunningham led the way for the 76ers with 23 points, while Wally Jones contributed 19.

Dr. Fager Top Horse Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Fager, who thrilled horse racing fans with his performances on the track, has his due—the Thoroughbred Racing Associations' Horse-of-the-Year award.

The good doctor was recognized Thursday night at a dinner which closed the TRA's 27th annual meeting.

Mrs. James H. Binger of Minneapolis accepted the award on behalf of her father, William L. McKnight, who owns 75 per cent of the colt, and trainer John Nerud, who holds the other quarter.

"On behalf of my father, I thank you very much and I wish you all could have had as great a thrill of a lifetime as we've had in owning a horse like Dr. Fager," Mrs. Binger said.

But race goers all across the nation did have many great thrills in watching the 4-year-old son Rough 'n Tumble-Aspidistra.

Dr. Fager won seven of eight starts in 1968—his only loss being to Damascus in the Brooklyn Handicap—and his career record is 14 wins, a second and a third in 17 starts, with earnings of $1,002,642, making him the ninth thoroughbred to top $1 million.

Upper Arlington QB Paces Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ted McNutly, the brilliant quarterback who guided Upper Arlington to its second straight State-high school football championship, heads a star-studded cast of players named to The Associated Press Class AA All-Ohio football team today.

East Liverpool's Stanley Ice was named as an offensive tackle on the first team and Jim Musuraca was named as a defensive end on the second team.

District boards, made up of sports writers and sportscasters from around the state, helped in choosing the scholastic gridders for statewide honors.

McNulty, an adept passer and strong runner, spearheaded an awesome Arlington attack that swept aside 10 straight foes in easy fashion.

A surplus of outstanding runners resulted in the AP dream team naming four backs, in addition to McNulty.

Postell (Junior) Browning of Fostoria, Mike White of Portsmouth, Jim Smith of Massillon and Bev Lee of Miami Trace, made the first unit.

Lorain Senior's Jim Svoboda, an outstanding two - way performer at end, and Chris Zaffer, a guard from Elyria, anchor a strong offensive line.

The defense is bulwarked by middle guard Cal Deitz of Shelby, a 6-7, 250 pound senior and back Jim Lash of Akron Garfield, who picked off 11 interceptions in his last 19 games.

McNulty completed 83 of 152 aerials for 1,414 yards and 15 touchdowns and rushed for an additional 830 and 10 touchdowns for a total offense of over 2,200 yards.

He edged out Steve Williams of Sidney for the quarterback spot. Williams, a fine option quarterback, accounted for more than 2,600 yards for Sidney's undefeated team.

Browning crashed enemy lines for 1349 yards in 284 trips while scoring 14 touchdowns. White, a 5-9 speedster, broke every Portsmouth school record with 1423 yards, 22 touchdowns and 153 points.

Lee, although playing only eight games, rambled for 1,158 yards and 120 points while Smith, the top rusher and scorer in the rugged All - American Conference, was over 1,000 yards despite missing his last game.

Second-ranked Mentor landed Duane Derrick at defensive end while No. 3 Canton McKinley's John Brandyberry made it at defensive tackle.

Fourth-ranked and unbeaten Elyria was represented by offensive guard Zaffer.

The second team backfield consists of Doug Root of Cuyahoga Falls; Robert Sims of Steubenville; Lowell Harper of Washington Court House and Jim Tucker of Columbus Eastmoor.

First team offense:

Ends—Jim Svoboda, Lorain Senior and Mike Scannell, Toledo Central Catholic.

Tackles — Stanley Ice, East Liverpool and Tony Pistick, Xenia.

Guards—Chris Zaffer, Elyria and Gary Patterson, Steubenville.

Center — Mike Poff, Vermilion.

Quarterback — Ted McNulty, Upper Arlington.

Backs — Postell (Junior) Browning, Fostoria; Mike White, Portsmouth; Jim Smith, Massillon and Bev Lee, Miami Trace.

Ends — Duane Derrick, Mentor and Jim Merrill, Upper Arlington.

Tackles — John Brandyberry, Canton McKinley and John Cummings, Cincinnati St. Xavier.

Middle guard — Cal Deitz, Shelby.

Linebackers — John Storm, Springfield South; Don Caldwell, Columbus South and Roger Weir, Cleveland St. Ignatius.

Backs—Jim Lash, Akron Garfield; Bill Drahuschak, Youngstown Chaney and Dick Atha, Worthington.

Ends — Lenny Masci, Wintersville and John Shinsky, Cleveland St. Joseph.

Tackles—Steve Rogers, Sandusky and Fred Pisanelli, Warren Western Reserve.

Guards — Don Wright, Lima Senior and John Leibert, East Cleveland Shaw.

Center—Tim McManus, Lakewood St. Edward.

Quarterback — Steve Williams, Sidney.

Backs—Doug Root, Cuyahoga Falls; Robert Sims, Steubenville; Lowell Harper, Washington Court House and Jim Tucker, Columbus Eastmoor.

Second team defense:

Ends — Jim Musuraca, East Liverpool and Tom Rabatin, Wadsworth.

Tackles—Larry Johnson, Columbus East and Mal Stoudenmire, Cleveland Kennedy.

Middle guard — Shad Williams, Portsmouth.

Linebackers — Tim Quinn, Kettering Alter; Bruce Woerner, Gahanna Lincoln and Rocco Rich, Canton McKinley.

Backs—Don Moser, Columbus Northland; Joe Rotterman, Cincinnati St. Xavier and Ken Dixon, Wintersville.

Honorable mentions included ends Martin Lucki of Bellaire St. John's and Tom Tamburino of Youngstown Ursuline; tackles Dave Pittman of Struthers, Paul Muklewicz of Steubenville and Bruce Dodzilla of Wintersville; guards Sam Forte of Steubenville Central and Tim Pulishen of Youngstown Cardinal Mooney; center Rick Crites; backs Gary Zetts of Struthers, Dave Zoba of Warren Western Reserve, Randy Dotson of Youngstown Rayen, Joe Caranfa of Steubenville Central, Ron Pytash of Jefferson Union, Doug Hutchison of Carrollton, Rich Weiskircher of Martins Ferry and Jim Miller of Steubenville Central.

Paul Powell Kick-Scoring Champion

NEW YORK (AP) — Defensive back Paul Ray Powell of Arizona State won the kick-scoring title, Danny Pitcock of Wichita State the punting crown and Terry Leiweke of Houston set an extra point record in college football statistics released today.

Powell, a junior who surged from 18th place in the last four weeks of the season, kicked eight of his 10 field goals in the final four games and finished with 47 extra points for 77 points, second highest by a kicker in history. Charley Gogolak of Princeton had 81 in 1965. Jim O'Brien of Cincinnati had 70 points and Bob Jacobs of Wyoming, who led in field goals with 14, had 68.

Pitcock kicked 71 times for a 43.2 yard per punt average, beating Benny Rhoads of Cincinnati at 42.5.

Leiweke, a sophomore, kicked 52 extra points, a season record, while Toledo junior Ken Crots extended his consecutive extra point string to 64, having never missed in varsity play.

Texas A&M's Steve O'Neal set a three-season career mark of 212 punts.

Records of 565 field goals kicked in 1,282 attempts also were set.

Porpoises suffer from ulcers, stomach aches and nervous breakdowns.

Alcindor Leads UCLA Into Columbus Tonight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State likely will find out tonight that it takes more than practice with a tennis racquet to stop Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins.

The country's top college basketball team and the agile 7-foot-2 Alcindor invade Columbus, Ohio, to battle the Buckeyes of the Big Ten.

In practice this week Fred Taylor, Ohio State coach, has stationed a 6-9 freshman in front of the basket with a tennis racquet to simulate Alcindor's height and bat away shots.

Whether this was any help to the Buckeyes remains to be seen. UCLA will be striving for its 18th straight and its 65th victory in 66 games.

Houston, Purdue, North Carolina State, Colorado, Boston College and Western Kentucky featured collegiate play Thursday night.

Houston, No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, whipped Arizona at home 85-64 as Theodis Lee and Ken Spain combined for 50 points. Lee scored 26 and Spain 24.

Purdue, beaten by UCLA in Los Angeles last week, opened its home season by thumping North Dakota 116-84 behind Rick Mount's 31 points.

North Carolina State made its first visit to New York in 12 years a winning one by whacking NYU 61-49 in Madison Square Garden as Vann Williford threw in 23 points.

Cliff Meely's 24 points led Colorado over Texas Tech 81-77 at Lubbock as the Buffaloes won their third straight. Boston College opened its season with an easy 86-66 victory over visiting LeMoyne, N.Y. Western Kentucky, No. 17 in the AP poll, enjoyed a similar home court romp over Union, Tenn., 89-54.

Southern Illinois scored on the road over Wichita State 58-51, Providence defeated Assumption, Mass., 91-84, Dartmouth overcame Amherst 52-46, Georgia downed Georgia Tech 84-74, Temple crushed Lehigh 77-62, Northwestern beat Missouri 79-67, Virginia defeated Richmond 113-92 and Bradley took North Dakota State 68-51 in other games.

Also, Kent State humbled Arzona State 92-81, New Mexico State downed Brigham Young 83-65, Texas A&M defeated Centenary 72-65 and Seattle beat Utah State 90-80.

Undergoes Operation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Abell, Kansas City Chiefs' linebacker, underwent an emergency appendectomy Thursday night and will be sidelined for the rest of the American Football League season, Coach Hank Stram said. Abell's condition was reporetd satisfactory.

Most everyone regards the 714 lifetime home runs slugged by Babe Ruth as an unassailable lifetime baseball record.

Willie Mays is driving for the 600 mark, but it is extremely unlikely that his career will continue long enough for him to match Ruth's output.

Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings is building a mark just as unassailable. In Pittsburgh Wednesday night, Howe scored his 700th lifetime National Hockey League goal, and at the age of 40 he is still going strong. Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, retired, is next on the all-time list with a mere 544. Bobby Hull of Chicago, the current hockey super-star, has only 430.

Howe on skates is poetry in motion. He makes everything he does look effortless, but is not afraid to give and take a few hard checks.

THE AMAZING thing about Howe is his consistency. He has been in the top five scoring in the NHL the last 19 years, an almost unparalleled feat.

Bullets Stop Lakers, Regain NBA Lead

By The Associated Press

Want to know how to control Los Angeles' rampaging Lakers? Just stop Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West.

Sounds impossible? Well, the Baltimore Bullets did just that Wednesday night and rode a 108-90 victory over the Lakers back into first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The Bullets' tenacious defense completely checked the Lakers' super trio, who spent the last five minutes of the game sitting on the bench next to disgusted Coach Butch van Breda Kolff.

Jack Martin held Elgin Baylor to only 16 points, while Chamberlain managed only 17 and West 20. Chamberlain scored only five points in the second half and grabbed just four of his 21 rebounds after intermission while Baltimore was building a big lead.

Philadelphia sailed past Chicago 109-92 in the night's only other NBA game.

The victory was the 20th in 27 games for the Bullets, who moved a full game ahead of Boston in the Eastern race. The setback snapped the Lakers' three-game victory streak, but Los Angeles still has a five-game lead in the Western Division.

Earl Monroe led the winners with 26 points while rookie Wes Unseld grabbed 27 rebounds in outplaying Chamberlain.

The Lakers, forced to take many shots from way out of range because of Baltimore's overpowering defense, trailed 50-43 at halftime. Then Baltimore broke it open in the third quarter when Gus Johnson scored 12 of his 17 points and Unself snared nine of his rebounds.

It also was a frustrating night for Chicago Coach Dick Motta, who benched his two 7-foot centers for the entire second half. Tom Boerwinkle had only five points and Dave Newmark was held scoreless in a first half that saw the Bulls hit only 11 of 53 shots while Philadelphia roared to a 62-29 lead.

Chicago managed to cut the gap to 13 points in the final quarter, however, as Bob Boozer scored 24 of his 33 points.

Bill Cunningham led the way for the 76ers with 23 points, while Wally Jones contributed 19.

Dr. Fager Top Horse Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Fager, who thrilled horse racing fans with his performances on the track, has his due—the Thoroughbred Racing Associations' Horse-of-the-Year award.

The good doctor was recognized Thursday night at a dinner which closed the TRA's 27th annual meeting.

Mrs. James H. Binger of Minneapolis accepted the award on behalf of her father, William L. McKnight, who owns 75 per cent of the colt, and trainer John Nerud, who holds the other quarter.

"On behalf of my father, I thank you very much and I wish you all could have had as great a thrill of a lifetime as we've had in owning a horse like Dr. Fager," Mrs. Binger said.

But race goers all across the nation did have many great thrills in watching the 4-year-old son Rough 'n Tumble-Aspidistra.

Dr. Fager won seven of eight starts in 1968—his only loss being to Damascus in the Brooklyn Handicap—and his career record is 14 wins, a second and a third in 17 starts, with earnings of $1,002,642, making him the ninth thoroughbred to top $1 million.

Mike Tobin, Michigan State sophomore tackle from Detroit, is the son of George Tobin who played football at Notre Dame 22 years ago.

Beavers, Bears At Home Tonight

The East Liverpool opener Saturday night is only one of 17 high school games in the area this weekend, with eight games tonight and nine tomorrow night.

In addition, the East Liverpool Kent State branch hosts the Salem branch at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the M. A.

The headliner tonight is Wellsville at Midland. Both teams were impressive in winning their openers. The Tigers topped Beaver Local 75-58 and Midland routed Western Beaver 74-20. Wellsville got balanced scoring in its win, while Midland, which substituted liberally, was led by Bub Bynum. Both teams are improved over last season due to the presence of newcomers.

Beaver Local hopes to rebound from its opening loss by hosting North Lima. The Zips are one of the tough clubs in the Inter-County League, holding wins over Leetonia 63-58 and Western Reserve 64-54. Bill McMeans, 6-6, is the big man in the attack. The Beavers counter with 6-4 Dave Mason inside and Bob Flint outside.

Oak Glen, a 63-49 winner over South Side Beaver in its opener, hosts Pittsburgh Langley. Langley dropped its opener 78-59 to Chartiers Valley. Jim Carns leads Jack McDevitt's Bears.

Western Beaver hopes to bounce back with a visit to Mars. The Planets tripped Class A Seneca Valley 61-58 and figure to be tough in the home orbit. Don Lenz is seeking his first win at the Western Beaver helm.

South Side Beaver, after losing three games on the road, hosts South Fayette. The visitors have lost to Carnegie 71-54 and West Allegheny 74-23. Dan McNary is averaging 10 points a game to pace the Rams.

East Palestine, defending Tri-County champs, opens its season at home against West Branch, which has beaten Columbiana 55-53 and lost to Poland 40-35. The Bulldogs are led by Joe Lewis.

Leetonia, which dropped its opener to North Lima, travels to Greenford, which was nipped 60-59 by Crestview in its debut.

Crestview hosts Western Reserve, which lost to North Lima. The Rebels are 2-0 under new coach Don Kaiser, having also beaten Southern Local.

Saturday afternoon the forces of Merrill Hall try to snap a three-game loss streak, with Salem KSU providing the opposition. The invaders are 5-2, with a 87-69 win over the Belmont County branch of Ohio U. in their latest outing. Salem has height, with 6-10 Doug Plastow and 6-6 Willie Brown the leading scorers. Mike Piatt and Jim Reese are each averaging 17.0 for the locals, with Mark Powell contributing 12.7 points a game.

In Saturday night games, Wellsville continues in quest of the Buckeye Border Conference title with a visit to Jefferson Union. The Yellowjackets of Carl Firm are 2-0, having downed Southern Local 58-52 and Mingo 62-44. Ron Pytash leads JU.

Beaver Local visits Crestview Saturday night, while Lisbon opens its season by hosting West Branch. Jim Courtney is expected to pace Gary Pike's Blue Devils.

East Palestine travels to Springfield Local, state Class A finalists a year ago. The Tigers haven't played yet this season All-Stater John Kennedy has graduated.

Leetonia travels to United. The Golden Eagles hope to bounce back from a 61-52 loss to Sebring, and depend on 6-6 Jack Mills.

Columbiana, which dropped two games by two points each in the opening weekend, visits North Lima. Southern Local, 0-3, travels to Springfield, which was nipped 56-54 in overtime by Toronto. Rob Carter paces the Indians, Ken Gordon the Tigers.

Stanton, 1-1, visits Mount Pleasant, which had a powerful team last season but has yet to play this year. Dave Olesky, coming off an injury, sparked the Red Raiders over Southern Local.

South Side Wrestlers Improved

"This team is much better than last year" says coach Don Charlton of his South Side Beaver wrestling team.

Already the Ram grapplers have matched last year's victory total, beating Sewickley Academy 40-26 in the opening match. Last year South Side went 1-11, with Sewickley Academy the victim.

The Rams are much stronger in the lighter weights this season, with some good freshmen on the squad. The heavy weights are a problem. Scholastic eligibility, determined on a weekly basis, is causing fluctuations in the roster.

Two freshmen qualify for the 88-pound class, George Nusser and George Tellish. Another freshman, Bill Reed, is a 95-pounder, but two of these boys may move up in class, as there are no others under 112. The 112-pound spot is filled by sophomore letterman Chuck Reed, brother of Bill.

At 120, junior Steve Suralie wrestled the first match, but letterman George McNary and junior Jack Moore are available for the weight pending eligibility.

Captain Jim Lawson, a senior letterman, holds down the 127-pound berth. Juniors Tom Shirley and Keith Rogers vie for the 133-pound slot. Sophomore Larry Cox is at 138, but he will be battled by senior Rick Chambers, now at 145, if letterman Ron Cooper becomes eligible at 145.

Sophomore letterman George Skolenkovich is at 154, but he can also reduce to 145. Junior Tim McCoy is at 165.

There is no one to man the 180 and unlimited classes at present, but Rick Patterson, a junior who lettered at 154 last season, and junior Rober Speer could help if they become eligible.

Charlton calls Avella the toughest foe on the schedule, with Ft. Cherry, Burgettstown and West Allegheny also tough.

The remaining schedule:
Dec. 10—at Avella
Dec. 17—at Charleroi
Dec. 20—at Freedom
Jan. 10—Hopewell
Jan. 15—Aliquippa
Jan. 24—Freedom
Jan. 28—at E. Liverpool
Jan. 31—at Ft. Cherry
Feb. 4—East Liverpool

Packers, Colts Play Showdown Saturday

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers' three-year reign in the National Football League may come to an end this Saturday when they take on the Baltimore Colts.

Despite the extreme importance of the nationally-televised contest, it might not decide a thing.

Zeke Bratkowski is figured to get the starting nod at quarterback for the Packers.

Bart Starr hasn't thrown in practice yet this week as he is recuperating from a rib injury that was aggravated in last week's loss to the San Francisco 49ers.

"We don't know about Bart," a Packer spokesman said. "He might not attempt to throw until the pre-game warm-up."

Sitting on the Baltimore bench will be Johnny Unitas, while back-up quarterback Earl Morrall leads the Colts into battle.

Morrall has been at the reins all season while Baltimore has racked up an 11-1 record.

The Packers are only one-half game behind Central Division co-leaders Minnesota and Chicago.

Following the Baltimore clash, Green Bay takes on the Bears in Chicago to close out the season.

If Minnesota, Chicago and Green Bay should all lose this weekend, the division title would not be decided until the final day.

Baltimore, the Coastal Division leader, has to beat arch-rival Los Angeles in their season finale, despite what happens in Green Bay this Saturday, to qualify for the Western Conference championship game.

The Colts sport the league's top defense, which has given up only two touchdowns in six games. The offense, with Morrall directing, is scoring at a clip just under 30 points an outing.

Throughout their championship years, the Packers made it a point to win the big games. They don't come any bigger than Saturday's battle.

Baseball Decisions Put Off

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Faced with a possible player strike and dwindling attendance in major league baseball parks, the American League is changing some spring training rules and the National League will test light in its ball parks.

That's the size of what happened in the final full day of baseball's winter meetings.

Only a one-hour session was planned for today, to discuss lowering the number of players a team can carry from 25 to 23. Thus it appears that the winter meetings will again end a day ahead of schedule with more important matters put off until later.

Among matters to have been decided at these meetings was the division of money for the inter-league playoffs that will be held for the first time in 1969. The realignment of the minor leagues and rules at inter-league play were also put off for further talks.

The playoff money split was postponed, said National League President Warren Giles, because, "that's not until next fall. We don't have to decide that now."

However, he did say, "the winner of the playoff should not be rewarded very much for being in the playoff because they share in the World Series money."

Minor League realignment, including the makeup of the Pacific Coast League, was put off because no agreement could be reached on how the PCL should be indemnified for losing teams in Seattle and San Diego to the American League. A meeting is set for Dec. 14 in Phoenix, Ariz., to decide the matter.

The subject of the player strike, threatened Wednesday by the Players Association if agreement on a pension-fund dispute couldn't be reached, was not discussed.

"We just feel that when you're in negotiations it ought to be kept as low key as possible," said Giles.

"You can't settle this thing with news releases."

John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners, did issue one news release, however, disputing the players association's contention that it was delaying negotiations. It ignored the association's charge that players were being pressured into signing their contracts.

American League President Joe Cronin said experimental rules would be made during the 1969 spring training season, but that they would not be used during the regular season.

Among the experiments, on which Cronin will announce details later, are a permanent pinch hitter, a permanent pinch runer who could be used at any time and awarding an intentional walk automatically rather than throwing four balls.

Giles said the National League would test all its lighting systems to make sure outfields were as well lit as the infield area. This was a suggestion of the New York Mets.

Giles recommended that votes on expanding the league and other matters be approved by a three-quarters vote rather than an unanimous one, but was turned down because he couldn't receive unanimous approval for the idea.

"They didn't pay much attention to me," Giles lamented.

Colts, Browns, Chiefs, Vikings Selected

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers are gathered around the campfire for the last stand. The old fort is tottering and the enemy is swarming in for the kill.

The Colts from Baltimore, still bitter about the disputed field goal in the 1965 sudden death playoff, would like nothing better than to push the Packers off the cliff Saturday afternoon.

After last week's 9-4 count the season record is 98-39-5 with 60-24-4 in the NFL and 38-15-1 in the AFL and two weeks to go. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 14 (Saturday)—Colts on six-game win tear with three shutouts in last five games. Packers sagged against 49ers after Starr was hurt. If Bob Jeter is still out, count on Colts to zero in on sub cornerback.

Los Angeles 24, Chicago 9—The flu bug forced George Allen to cancel practice Tuesday after Rams' impressive handling of Vikings. Los Angeles can't afford to miss a step before next week's big finale with Colts. Bars still hanging in there despite flood of injuries but don't have offense to shake that sturdy Ram defense.

Cleveland 30, Washington 14—Browns can start tuning up for Dallas if they can smother Sonny Jurgensen and beat Redskins. It should be no probem for Leroy Kelly to run on 'Skins and Bill Nelsen should have all time he needs to throw the ball. There's only one problem—that fellow Jurgensen.

New York 24, St. Louis 21—Cards know they have to win to stay alive and even that won't help if Cleveland wins. Loss of Dave Williams tough blow to St. Louis' passing game. Giants seem to have knack of handling Cards but the offensive line must keep those rushers off Fran Tarkenton's back.

Dallas 35, Pittsburgh 14—Cowboys without Pete Gent and Pettis Norman may decide to go with Craig Morton and let Don Meredith rest for more important work later against Cleveland or St. Louis. Steelers usually die in second half and Dallas rush should put heat on Dick Shiner.

Minnesota 23, San Francisco 21—We're picking an upset here despite 49ers' win over Green Bay. Vikings don't have much air punch but they can take it to you on the ground and that defensive line can eat a quarterback alive. If Vikings win, all they have to do is beat Philadelphia to get at least a tie in the Central Division. John Brodie may make this look like a bad dream but the Vikes are desperate.

Detroit 14, Atlanta 7—And how do you figure this kind of a game? Both are coming off shutout defeats. Lions winless in seven (two ties) showed nothing against Eagles in mud. Give Lions a slim vote because they do have a defense.

New Orleans 17, Philadelphia 13—Flip a coin. Win at Detroit has to help Eagles and the Boycott Day might even make them mad. Could set a record for intercepts with Norm Snead and Billy Kilmer at the controls.

AFL

Houston 21, Buffalo 17 (Saturday)—Last game for the Bills and will they be happy when this season is over. Houston beat them 30-7 on Oct. 27 in Buffalo. Ed Rutkowski gave Oakland fits on Thanksgiving Day but they still have lost seven straight.

Miami 28, Boston 14—A mean-nothing game for all sides. Dolphins whipped the Pats 24-10 in Boston, Nov. 24 when Bob Griese threw three touchdown passes. Patriots snapped five-game losing streak against Cincinnati with biggest point splurge of season, 33.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 24—The big game of the day in the league. Chiefs won first meeting 27-20 at home and now must repeat on road while defending against John Hadl's bombs to Lance Alworth.

Oakland 31, Denver 14—Raiders should be able to ease home against Broncs who were blasted by Chargers last week 47-23. Oakland won handily at Denver 43-7 in first meeting with George Blanda at controls.

New York 35, Cincinnati 17—First regular season meeting of two clubs. Jets already have Eastern title wrapped up and are trying to rest key talents.

Browns To Activate Bill Glass, Collins

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gary Collins and Bill Glass likely will be back on the Cleveland Browns roster today.

Both have recovered from injuries but it appears Collins won't be used Sunday against the Washington Redskins as the Browns try to wrap up the National Football League's Century Division title.

Coach Blanton Collier says Tommy McDonald will start as flanker in place of Eppie Barney, who suffered a fractured ankle in practice this week.

The Browns also are expected to bring receiver Ron Green up from the cab squad. Collins, the veteran flanker, could be ready for action against St. Louis Dec. 14.

Glass, a defensive end, will be wearing a protective vest around his ribs and said, "I don't anticipate any trouble at all."

Collins had the pins removed from his injured shoulder 10 days ago and is not yet ready for full contact work.

The Browns will have to activate Glass and Collins by 4 p.m. today if they want them eligible for any post season playoff games.

If the Browns win Sunday they meet the Dallas Cowboys in the Eastern Conference championship in Cleveland Dec. 21. Should the Browns lose to Washington and St. Louis beats New York, it'll come down to the final game in St. Louis Dec. 14 to determine the Century Division winner.

That's the size of what happened in the final full day of baseball's winter meetings.

Only a one-hour session was planned for today, to discuss lowering the number of players a team can carry from 25 to 23. Thus it appears that the winter meetings will again end a day ahead of schedule with more important matters put off until later.

Among matters to have been decided at these meetings was the division of money for the inter-league playoffs that will be held for the first time in 1969. The realignment of the minor leagues and rules at inter-league play were also put off for further talks.

The playoff money split was postponed, said National League President Warren Giles, because, "that's not until next fall. We don't have to decide that now."

However, he did say, "the winner of the playoff should not be rewarded very much for being in the playoff because they share in the World Series money."

Minor League realignment, including the makeup of the Pacific Coast League, was put off because no agreement could be reached on how the PCL should be indemnified for losing teams in Seattle and San Diego to the American League. A meeting is set for Dec. 14 in Phoenix, Ariz., to decide the matter.

The subject of the player strike, threatened Wednesday by the Players Association if agreement on a pension-fund dispute couldn't be reached, was not discussed.

"We just feel that when you're in negotiations it ought to be kept as low key as possible," said Giles.

"You can't settle this thing with news releases."

John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners, did issue one news release, however, disputing the players association's contention that it was delaying negotiations. It ignored the association's charge that players were being pressured into signing their contracts.

American League President Joe Cronin said experimental rules would be made during the 1969 spring training season, but that they would not be used during the regular season.

Among the experiments, on which Cronin will announce details later, are a permanent pinch hitter, a permanent pinch runer who could be used at any time and awarding an intentional walk automatically rather than throwing four balls.

Giles said the National League would test all its lighting systems to make sure outfields were as well lit as the infield area. This was a suggestion of the New York Mets.

Giles recommended that votes on expanding the league and other matters be approved by a three-quarters vote rather than an unanimous one, but was turned down because he couldn't receive unanimous approval for the idea.

"They didn't pay much attention to me," Giles lamented.

Colts, Browns, Chiefs, Vikings Selected

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers are gathered around the campfire for the last stand. The old fort is tottering and the enemy is swarming in for the kill.

The Colts from Baltimore, still bitter about the disputed field goal in the 1965 sudden death playoff, would like nothing better than to push the Packers off the cliff Saturday afternoon.

After last week's 9-4 count the season record is 98-39-5 with 60-24-4 in the NFL and 38-15-1 in the AFL and two weeks to go. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 14 (Saturday)—Colts on six-game win tear with three shutouts in last five games. Packers sagged against 49ers after Starr was hurt. If Bob Jeter is still out, count on Colts to zero in on sub cornerback.

Los Angeles 24, Chicago 9—The flu bug forced George Allen to cancel practice Tuesday after Rams' impressive handling of Vikings. Los Angeles can't afford to miss a step before next week's big finale with Colts. Bars still hanging in there despite flood of injuries but don't have offense to shake that sturdy Ram defense.

Cleveland 30, Washington 14—Browns can start tuning up for Dallas if they can smother Sonny Jurgensen and beat Redskins. It should be no probem for Leroy Kelly to run on 'Skins and Bill Nelsen should have all time he needs to throw the ball. There's only one problem—that fellow Jurgensen.

New York 24, St. Louis 21—Cards know they have to win to stay alive and even that won't help if Cleveland wins. Loss of Dave Williams tough blow to St. Louis' passing game. Giants seem to have knack of handling Cards but the offensive line must keep those rushers off Fran Tarkenton's back.

Dallas 35, Pittsburgh 14—Cowboys without Pete Gent and Pettis Norman may decide to go with Craig Morton and let Don Meredith rest for more important work later against Cleveland or St. Louis. Steelers usually die in second half and Dallas rush should put heat on Dick Shiner.

Minnesota 23, San Francisco 21—We're picking an upset here despite 49ers' win over Green Bay. Vikings don't have much air punch but they can take it to you on the ground and that defensive line can eat a quarterback alive. If Vikings win, all they have to do is beat Philadelphia to get at least a tie in the Central Division. John Brodie may make this look like a bad dream but the Vikes are desperate.

Detroit 14, Atlanta 7—And how do you figure this kind of a game? Both are coming off shutout defeats. Lions winless in seven (two ties) showed nothing against Eagles in mud. Give Lions a slim vote because they do have a defense.

New Orleans 17, Philadelphia 13—Flip a coin. Win at Detroit has to help Eagles and the Boycott Day might even make them mad. Could set a record for intercepts with Norm Snead and Billy Kilmer at the controls.

AFL

Houston 21, Buffalo 17 (Saturday)—Last game for the Bills and will they be happy when this season is over. Houston beat them 30-7 on Oct. 27 in Buffalo. Ed Rutkowski gave Oakland fits on Thanksgiving Day but they still have lost seven straight.

Miami 28, Boston 14—A mean-nothing game for all sides. Dolphins whipped the Pats 24-10 in Boston, Nov. 24 when Bob Griese threw three touchdown passes. Patriots snapped five-game losing streak against Cincinnati with biggest point splurge of season, 33.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 24—The big game of the day in the league. Chiefs won first meeting 27-20 at home and now must repeat on road while defending against John Hadl's bombs to Lance Alworth.

Oakland 31, Denver 14—Raiders should be able to ease home against Broncs who were blasted by Chargers last week 47-23. Oakland won handily at Denver 43-7 in first meeting with George Blanda at controls.

New York 35, Cincinnati 17—First regular season meeting of two clubs. Jets already have Eastern title wrapped up and are trying to rest key talents.

Browns To Activate Bill Glass, Collins

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gary Collins and Bill Glass likely will be back on the Cleveland Browns roster today.

Both have recovered from injuries but it appears Collins won't be used Sunday against the Washington Redskins as the Browns try to wrap up the National Football League's Century Division title.

Coach Blanton Collier says Tommy McDonald will start as flanker in place of Eppie Barney, who suffered a fractured ankle in practice this week.

The Browns also are expected to bring receiver Ron Green up from the cab squad. Collins, the veteran flanker, could be ready for action against St. Louis Dec. 14.

Glass, a defensive end, will be wearing a protective vest around his ribs and said, "I don't anticipate any trouble at all."

Collins had the pins removed from his injured shoulder 10 days ago and is not yet ready for full contact work.

The Browns will have to activate Glass and Collins by 4 p.m. today if they want them eligible for any post season playoff games.

If the Browns win Sunday they meet the Dallas Cowboys in the Eastern Conference championship in Cleveland Dec. 21. Should the Browns lose to Washington and St. Louis beats New York, it'll come down to the final game in St. Louis Dec. 14 to determine the Century Division winner.

Tony Esposito's NHL Bow Spoiled By Brother Phil

Bruin Ace Nets 2

BOSTON (AP) — Young Tony Esposito made his National Hockey League starting debut as a rookie goaltender for the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night, but his older brother Phil wasn't a very cordial host.

Tony had a perfect night against the rest of the Bruins, but Phil slammed a pair of goals past him to earn a 2-2 tie. The deadlock was enough, however, to lift the Canadiens into a first place tie in the East Division with New York, which bowed 4-2 to Detroit in the night's only othe game.

Tony stopped Phil on a couple of other occasions as both brothers gave ample evidence they were out there to win—not to worry about who was on the other side.

"Phil didn't have any qualms about scoring on his brother—I'll tell you that," Boston Coach Harry Sinden said.

"You really don't have any time to think about it anyway," Sinden added. "When you get a chance to score in this game, you take it. You're not going to ease up."

Esposito, 26, concurred, but the high-scoring Boston center also had a lot of post-game praise for his 25-year-old brother.

Goals by Bob Rousseau and Yvan Cournoyer carried Montreal to a 2-1 lead, but then midway in the final period Phil cut loose from about 45 feet and the puck sailed over the partially screened Tony's shoulder to tie the game.

Except for those two plays, Tony rose to every occasion, collecting 33 saves in a strong initial effort. His only previous NHL experience had been a 26-minute stint at Oakland last week in which he allowed two goals.

Defenseman Kent Douglas was the hero of Detroit's victory over New York, scoring one goal and setting up two others.

The Red Wings' defenseman opened the scoring at 5:32 of the first period, but the Rangers tied it on Jim Neilson's goal in the same period.

Hawkins Gets 53 Points, Pipers Lose To Denver

By The Associated Press

Super Oak Rick Barry struck again . . . helping Oakland take another step toward turning the American Basketball Association's Western Division race from a rout into a fiasco.

Barry poured in 30 points as the Oaks ripped the New York Nets 139-122 Thursday night for their 18th victory in 21 games. The triumph gave Oakland a full seven-game lead in their division.

Meanwhile, Denver survived a 53-point showing by Connie Hawkins to upend Minnesota's Eastern Division leaders 119-118. Indiana stopped New Orleans 118-115 in the night's other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 108-90 and Philadelphia whipped Chicago 109-92.

Barry collected 17 points in the fourth period after Oakland opened up an early lead and never was headed. Gary Bradds contributed 30 points to the Oaks' attack, which utilized the rebounding of Ira Harge and the playmaking of Warren Armstrong.

Walt Simon topped New York with 29 points. He also was in[illegible] having match with [illegible] quarter.

Denver's Byron Beck turned on a Hawkins-led rally in the [illegible] seconds when he pulled down a rebound of Connie's forced shot, then held onto the ball until time ran out.

Hawkins' production was four points shy of his ABA record.

The setback snapped Minnesota's winning streak at seven games, but the Pipers hold a commanding five-game edge in the Eastern race.

Larry Jones led the way for the Rockets with 34 points and teammates Billy McGill and Julian Hammond each netted 26.

Indiana almost blew a 22-point lead in knocking New Orleans out of second place in the Western Division.

Bob Netolicky, who paced the Pacers with 32 points, fired in a pair of quick baskets to give Indiana a 98-76 command in the final quarter. But then New Orleans rallied and pulled to within three points in the final minute.

However, a 40-foot hook shot by Red Robbins that would have forced an overtime fell short as the horn sounded.

Jimmy Jones led the Bucs with 32 points. The rugged game produced two casualties. Indiana's Mel Daniels was knocked out in a collision with Jack Moreland of New Orleans. Moreland needed six stitches to close a gash under his left eye.

At Derby Hearing

Colorado Doctor Backs Kentucky Race Chemist

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — One thing has changed since the hearing on Dancer's Image opened Nov. 18. Calmness has been replaced by tension, tempers and weariness.

All three were visibly evident Thursday when the state called its last witness, Dr. Francis Ozog, to testify before the Kentucky RKA Commission.

The commission is considering an appeal by Peter Fuller, owner of the colt, who is trying to recover the $122,600 purse denied him because of a report showing the presence of phenylbutazone in Dancer's Image.

Ozog, racing chemist for the state of Colorado, is considered an expert on phenylbutazone because the medication is permissible in horses running in his state.

Ozog was about to present a number of slides of crystal tests he had made in order to compare them with those taken by Kenneth W. Smith, the chemist for Churchill Downs.

When Ozog produced the slides, Fuller's chief counsel, Arthur Grafton, demanded that the commission prohibit the use of such material as evidence.

"This is highly irregular and ususual," Grafton complained to the commission. He pointed out that Ozog sat through most of the hearings acting as a consultant to the commission's attorney, George Rabe.

"You cannot allow a man to sit here and hear testimony, then let him go home, make some experiments, and then bring them back here to be used as evidence," Grafton insisted.

He was overruled by Commission Chairman George Eggner, who explained, "We have allowed both sides wide latitude in this case."

Grafton raised another objection over the presence of Smith in the room while the slides were being shown.

"You are trying to let two witnesses testify at the same time," he stated.

Egger went along with Grafton's argument and explained to Smith that he could run the projector but make no comments.

When Ozog finally got a chance to speak, he said that the slides of crystal tests he had taken compared favorably with those obtained by Smith in drawing up his report on Dancer's Image.

Ozog also produced another experiment he had made using ultra-violet on a horse's urine to test it for phesylbutazone.

These tests were two of the five which Smith conducted on Dancer's Image urine. Among the others were two color tests known as the Vitalis and the Mandalin's.

In order that the commissioners could understand how these tests worked, Ozog performed them in front of the five men, using horse urine that contained phenylbutazone.

Cook, Other Ohioans Set On North Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Quarterback Greg Cook of Cincinnati is one of several Ohio college players named to the North squad for the 20th annual Senior Bowl football game to be played here Jan. 11.

Other backfield performers will include Toledo's Roland Moss. Lineman include Cincinnati end Tom Rossley and Xavier guard John Shinners. Bob Babich of Miami is among the linebackers.

McKay Criticizes Ohio State Schedule

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State might be the No. 1 college football team in the country, but John McKay, coach of second-ranked Southern California, won't believe it until the Buckeyes prove they can go unbeaten in 10 games.

"We think we're the best and, of course, Ohio State thinks they are," McKay said before the Heisman Trophy dinner Thursday night honoring winner O.J. Simpson of the Trojans.

"I'd like to have seen them play 10 games, though. Maybe they could have met Notre Dame in their 10th game."

The unbeaten Buckeyes played only nine regular season games while USC, with a chance to overtake Ohio State in the poll, was tied by Notre Dame last Saturday and finished at 9-0-1.

However, the Trojans get a final chance when they square off against Ohio State in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

McKay felt that, although the quality of opponents can't be regulated, at least there should be uniformity in the schedule with each team playing 10 games.

"After all, we would have been unbeaten and untied, too, if we had played only nine games," he pointed out.

"Fortunately, Ohio State will have to play a 10th game—against us."

"I'm happy The Associated Press is having a final poll after the bowl games. I think it's a good idea, particularly when the No. 1 and No. 2 teams meet like Ohio State and us. And I think the game should be sudden death if it ends in a tie at the end of regulation time."

McKay had no special changes planned for the Ohio State clash. "We know what they'll do and they know what we'll do," he said.

And anything the Trojans do is certain to center around Simpson, an All-American for the second consecutive year who ran away with the Heisman award after breaking all kinds of records as the country's top running back.

Dave Davis Takes Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Fighting hard to retain all the bowling honors he won a year ago, Dave Davis of Phoenix took the lead in the $80,000 Professional Bowlers Association national championship at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The slim 26-year-old southpaw won an unprecedented eight straight games of match play, the eighth game of the night from Wayne Zahn of Atlanta, to take over the top spot with 16 games to go Friday.

Zahn won three games, while Dick Weber of St. Louis remained a close third by winning five games. Totals for the top three are: Davis 9,923, Zahn 9,885 and Weber 9,832.

John Rinka Scores 51, Kenyon Wins Easily

By The Associated Press

One of college basketball's best little men, Kenyon's John Rinka, got in a big night before giant Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins invaded Ohio.

The 5-foot-9 Rinka scored 51 points Thursday night as the Lords beat Wilmington 115-104 in their last outing before a crucial Ohio Conference test at Baldwin-Wallace Saturday.

The spotlight goes up 17 inches tonight, to 7-foot-2 Alcindor who leads the No. 1 ranked Uclans into the game with Ohio State. The Buckeyes' No. 1 ranking in football won't do them a bit of good in this one. The basketball Bucks are rated 13th in the country.

Rinka, who averaged 31 points a game last season as a sophomore, now has 86 points for two games this season. He was deadly from the outside Thursday night and made 15 foul shots. Freshman Marty Hunt added 23 points for the Lords, and Gary Davis had 22 to lead Wilmington.

In other Thursday night games, Kent State traveled to Arizona State for a 92-81 victory, Xavier nipped Union, Ky., 68 - 66, Steubenville downed Wheeling 81-70, Georgetown, Ky. beat Rio Grande 112-59, Urbana defeated Malone 107 - 92 and Penta Tech beat Wilberforce 76-70.

Xavier came from behind sparked by Chris Hall, who came off the bench to score nine points in the last eight minutes. He totaled 13 points for the game, while teammate John Zeides had 18.

Steubenville trailed by as much as 11 points in the second half, but hot shooting by Brian Wing and Steve Linderman pulled the game out. Wing led his team in scoring with 21 points, and Wheeling's Jed O'Connell topped all scorers with 25. Urbana had five men in double figures in the victory over Malone, which got 22 points apiece from Dave Miller and David Berry.

Laurel Race Jockeys Ride For Miners

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Jockeys riding at Laurel Race Course have established a fund to aid the families of 78 miners killed last month in a mine disaster near Mannington, W. Va.

The Laurel Jockey Guild calls it the West Virginia Miners' Emergency Fund.

They declared that every jockey who rode Wednesday would contribute at least a losing jockey's fee of $25 from his day's earnings.

"We take risks every day," veteran horseman Bill Passmore said, "so we know the grief of widows and orphans as the impact of 'no daddy' sinks into a family.

"Christmas is coming and those families could use some money now," he added.

Kelso Sturgeon, a spokesman for Laurel, said the amount could easily reach $3,000. But since the jockeys came up with the idea, Sturgeon says "just about everyone who works at or is connected with Laurel Race Course wants to help out."

He said the fund will be forwarded to the Citizens' Mine Disaster Committee in Farmington, W. Va., near Mannington.

Cordero Has Slim Margin In Riding

By The Associated Press

Angelo Cordero Jr. and Alvaro Pineda are out in front for the 1968 national jockey championship, but apprentice George Cusimano still has a chance of snatching the riding crown away from both of them.

Starting today's races, Cordero was leading with 304 victories to 301 for Pineda and 281 for Cusimano. Cusimano needs only to hit a hot streak like he did at Delaware during the summer to get back into the thick of contention during the remaining weeks of the year.

Cordero broke a tie at 300 with Pineda by riding four winners at Aqueduct in New York Thursday. Pineda scored once at Bay Meadows in California as did Cusimano at Laurel in Maryland.

The race for the riding championship has taken the play over the horses this weekend.

Tony Esposito's NHL Bow Spoiled By Brother Phil

Bruin Ace Nets 2

BOSTON (AP) — Young Tony Esposito made his National Hockey League starting debut as a rookie goaltender for the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night, but his older brother Phil wasn't a very cordial host.

Tony had a perfect night against the rest of the Bruins, but Phil slammed a pair of goals past him to earn a 2-2 tie. The deadlock was enough, however, to lift the Canadiens into a first place tie in the East Division with New York, which bowed 4-2 to Detroit in the night's only othe game.

Tony stopped Phil on a couple of other occasions as both brothers gave ample evidence they were out there to win—not to worry about who was on the other side.

"Phil didn't have any qualms about scoring on his brother—I'll tell you that," Boston Coach Harry Sinden said.

"You really don't have any time to think about it anyway," Sinden added. "When you get a chance to score in this game, you take it. You're not going to ease up."

Esposito, 26, concurred, but the high-scoring Boston center also had a lot of post-game praise for his 25-year-old brother.

Goals by Bob Rousseau and Yvan Cournoyer carried Montreal to a 2-1 lead, but then midway in the final period Phil cut loose from about 45 feet and the puck sailed over the partially screened Tony's shoulder to tie the game.

Except for those two plays, Tony rose to every occasion, collecting 33 saves in a strong initial effort. His only previous NHL experience had been a 26-minute stint at Oakland last week in which he allowed two goals.

Defenseman Kent Douglas was the hero of Detroit's victory over New York, scoring one goal and setting up two others.

The Red Wings' defenseman opened the scoring at 5:32 of the first period, but the Rangers tied it on Jim Neilson's goal in the same period.

Hawkins Gets 53 Points, Pipers Lose To Denver

By The Associated Press

Super Oak Rick Barry struck again . . . helping Oakland take another step toward turning the American Basketball Association's Western Division race from a rout into a fiasco.

Barry poured in 30 points as the Oaks ripped the New York Nets 139-122 Thursday night for their 18th victory in 21 games. The triumph gave Oakland a full seven-game lead in their division.

Meanwhile, Denver survived a 53-point showing by Connie Hawkins to upend Minnesota's Eastern Division leaders 119-118. Indiana stopped New Orleans 118-115 in the night's other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 108-90 and Philadelphia whipped Chicago 109-92.

Barry collected 17 points in the fourth period after Oakland opened up an early lead and never was headed. Gary Bradds contributed 30 points to the Oaks' attack, which utilized the rebounding of Ira Harge and the playmaking of Warren Armstrong.

Walt Simon topped New York with 29 points. He also was in- [illegible] having match with [illegible] quarter.

Denver's Byron Beck turned on a Hawkins-led rally in the [illegible] seconds when he pulled down a rebound of Connie's forced shot, then held onto the ball until time ran out.

Hawkins' production was four points shy of his ABA record.

The setback snapped Minnesota's winning streak at seven games, but the Pipers hold a commanding five-game edge in the Eastern race.

Larry Jones led the way for the Rockets with 34 points and teammates Billy McGill and Julian Hammond each netted 26.

Indiana almost blew a 22-point lead in knocking New Orleans out of second place in the Western Division.

Bob Netolicky, who paced the Pacers with 32 points, fired in a pair of quick baskets to give Indiana a 98-76 command in the final quarter. But then New Orleans rallied and pulled to within three points in the final minute.

However, a 40-foot hook shot by Red Robbins that would have forced an overtime fell short as the horn sounded.

Jimmy Jones led the Bucs with 32 points. The rugged game produced two casualties. Indiana's Mel Daniels was knocked out in a collision with Jack Moreland of New Orleans. Moreland needed six stitches to close a gash under his left eye.

At Derby Hearing

Colorado Doctor Backs Kentucky Race Chemist

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — One thing has changed since the hearing on Dancer's Image opened Nov. 18. Calmness has been replaced by tension, tempers and weariness.

All three were visibly evident Thursday when the state called its last witness, Dr. Francis Ozog, to testify before the Kentucky RKA Commission.

The commission is considering an appeal by Peter Fuller, owner of the colt, who is trying to recover the $122,600 purse denied him because of a report showing the presence of phenylbutazone in Dancer's Image.

Ozog, racing chemist for the state of Colorado, is considered an expert on phenylbutazone because the medication is permissible in horses running in his state.

Ozog was about to present a number of slides of crystal tests he had made in order to compare them with those taken by Kenneth W. Smith, the chemist for Churchill Downs.

When Ozog produced the slides, Fuller's chief counsel, Arthur Grafton, demanded that the commission prohibit the use of such material as evidence.

"This is highly irregular and ususual," Grafton complained to the commission. He pointed out that Ozog sat through most of the hearings acting as a consultant to the commission's attorney, George Rabe.

"You cannot allow a man to sit here and hear testimony, then let him go home, make some experiments, and then bring them back here to be used as evidence," Grafton insisted.

He was overruled by Commission Chairman George Eggner, who explained, "We have allowed both sides wide latitude in this case."

Grafton raised another objection over the presence of Smith in the room while the slides were being shown.

"You are trying to let two witnesses testify at the same time," he stated.

Egger went along with Grafton's argument and explained to Smith that he could run the projector but make no comments.

When Ozog finally got a chance to speak, he said that the slides of crystal tests he had taken compared favorably with those obtained by Smith in drawing up his report on Dancer's Image.

Ozog also produced another experiment he had made using ultra-violet on a horse's urine to test it for phesylbutazone.

These tests were two of the five which Smith conducted on Dancer's Image urine. Among the others were two color tests known as the Vitalis and the Mandalin's.

In order that the commissioners could understand how these tests worked, Ozog performed them in front of the five men, using horse urine that contained phenylbutazone.

McKay Criticizes Ohio State Schedule

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State might be the No. 1 college football team in the country, but John McKay, coach of second-ranked Southern California, won't believe it until the Buckeyes prove they can go unbeaten in 10 games.

"We think we're the best and, of course, Ohio State thinks they are," McKay said before the Heisman Trophy dinner Thursday night honoring winner O.J. Simpson of the Trojans.

"I'd like to have seen them play 10 games, though. Maybe they could have met Notre Dame in their 10th game."

The unbeaten Buckeyes played only nine regular season games while USC, with a chance to overtake Ohio State in the poll, was tied by Notre Dame last Saturday and finished at 9-0-1.

However, the Trojans get a final chance when they square off against Ohio State in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

McKay felt that, although the quality of opponents can't be regulated, at least there should be uniformity in the schedule with each team playing 10 games.

"After all, we would have been unbeaten and untied, too, if we had played only nine games," he pointed out.

"Fortunately, Ohio State will have to play a 10th game—against us."

"I'm happy The Associated Press is having a final poll after the bowl games. I think it's a good idea, particularly when the No. 1 and No. 2 teams meet like Ohio State and us. And I think the game should be sudden death if it ends in a tie at the end of regulation time."

McKay had no special changes planned for the Ohio State clash. "We know what they'll do and they know what we'll do," he said.

And anything the Trojans do is certain to center around Simpson, an All-American for the second consecutive year who ran away with the Heisman award after breaking all kinds of records as the country's top running back.

Cook, Other Ohioans Set On North Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Quarterback Greg Cook of Cincinnati is one of several Ohio college players named to the North squad for the 20th annual Senior Bowl football game to be played here Jan. 11.

Other backfield performers will include Toledo's Roland Moss. Lineman include Cincinnati end Tom Rossley and Xavier guard John Shinners. Bob Babich of Miami is among the linebackers.

Some common species of American birds have more than 30 recognized subspecies.

John Rinka Scores 51, Kenyon Wins Easily

By The Associated Press

One of college basketball's best little men, Kenyon's John Rinka, got in a big night before giant Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins invaded Ohio.

The 5-foot-9 Rinka scored 51 points Thursday night as the Lords beat Wilmington 115-104 in their last outing before a crucial Ohio Conference test at Baldwin-Wallace Saturday.

The spotlight goes up 17 inches tonight, to 7-foot-2 Alcindor who leads the No. 1 ranked Uclans into the game with Ohio State. The Buckeyes' No. 1 ranking in football won't do them a bit of good in this one. The basketball Bucks are rated 13th in the country.

Rinka, who averaged 31 points a game last season as a sophomore, now has 86 points for two games this season. He was deadly from the outside Thursday night and made 15 foul shots. Freshman Marty Hunt added 23 points for the Lords, and Gary Davis had 22 to lead Wilmington.

In other Thursday night games, Kent State traveled to Arizona State for a 92-81 victory, Xavier nipped Union, Ky., 68 - 66, Steubenville downed Wheeling 81-70, Georgetown, Ky. beat Rio Grande 112-59, Urbana defeated Malone 107 - 92 and Penta Tech beat Wilberforce 76-70.

Xavier came from behind sparked by Chris Hall, who came off the bench to score nine points in the last eight minutes. He totaled 13 points for the game, while teammate John Zeides had 18.

Steubenville trailed by as much as 11 points in the second half, but hot shooting by Brian Wing and Steve Linderman pulled the game out. Wing led his team in scoring with 21 points, and Wheeling's Jed O'Connell topped all scorers with 25. Urbana had five men in double figures in the victory over Malone, which got 22 points apiece from Dave Miller and David Berry.

Laurel Race Jockeys Ride For Miners

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Jockeys riding at Laurel Race Course have established a fund to aid the families of 78 miners killed last month in a mine disaster near Mannington, W. Va.

The Laurel Jockey Guild calls it the West Virginia Miners' Emergency Fund.

They declared that every jockey who rode Wednesday would contribute at least a losing jockey's fee of $25 from his day's earnings.

"We take risks every day," veteran horseman Bill Passmore said, "so we know the grief of widows and orphans as the impact of 'no daddy' sinks into a family.

"Christmas is coming and those families could use some money now," he added.

Kelso Sturgeon, a spokesman for Laurel, said the amount could easily reach $3,000. But since the jockeys came up with the idea, Sturgeon says "just about everyone who works at or is connected with Laurel Race Course wants to help out."

He said the fund will be forwarded to the Citizens' Mine Disaster Committee in Farmington, W. Va., near Mannington.

Cordero Has Slim Margin In Riding

By The Associated Press

Angelo Cordero Jr. and Alvaro Pineda are out in front for the 1968 national jockey championship, but apprentice George Cusimano still has a chance of snatching the riding crown away from both of them.

Starting today's races, Cordero was leading with 304 victories to 301 for Pineda and 281 for Cusimano. Cusimano needs only to hit a hot streak like he did at Delaware during the summer to get back into the thick of contention during the remaining weeks of the year.

Cordero broke a tie at 300 with Pineda by riding four winners at Aqueduct in New York Thursday. Pineda scored once at Bay Meadows in California as did Cusimano at Laurel in Maryland.

The race for the riding championship has taken the play over the horses this weekend.

Hearings Due On 3 Charges

Municipal Court hearings are due Wednesday morning for Alfred Higgins, 34, of 770 Dresden Ave., cited by police on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident and public intoxication.

Arraigned yesterday before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Higgins requested a continuance to allow time for him to obtain counsel. He also indicated he will request a jury trial.

The court set appearance bonds totaling $635—$500 on the drunken driving charge, $100 on the hit-skip allegation and $35 on the intoxication count.

Police said Higgins was cited after his auto veered off St. Clair Ave. 55 feet north of Walnut St. Thursday at 12:58 a.m. and struck an Ohio Power Co. pole and a city - owned "no parking" sign. Higgins told police he did not know how the crash occurred.

The defendant was operating a 1965 sedan owned by Ralph Jackson of 165 Vernia St., officers said.

The Copts of Egypt are direct descendants of the ancient Egyptians but today are hardly distinguishable from the population of Arab origin.

Nixon's Talent Scout

Doctor Of Divinity Once Graded Potatoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief talent scout for the Nixon administration's first team is a doctor of divinity who once graded potatoes and now grades potential secretaries of state.

And Dr. Glenn A. Olds doesn't think the best potatoes or men necessarily come in neat rounded packages.

Olds, former president of Massachusetts' Springfield College, spent seven months interviewing 1,500 persons—sizing them up as possible cabinet secretaries, advisers, administrators and consultants for Richard M. Nixon.

As Nixon and his advisers go through the process of selecting the men to replace Johnson administration appointees, they are working with Olds' scouting report. There is a folder for each major appointive position open to the President-elect with cross references.

In studying them, Nixon will find some surprises.

Olds, who declined to name names in an interview, said he recommended some of the top men in the country for roles that might be considered unusual—under the theory square pegs get stale in square holes.

"I used to run a potato sorter and I just don't believe that all the best meat comes from this round package," said Olds, his fingers shaping a circle.

"In fact, I have a little suspicion of the well-rounded man with the short-radius. I think we need angularity. We need creativity."

Thus in making recommendations to Nixon he included one group "my staff cozily calls the Oldsian Category . . .

"In that category I recommend always someone like this —that is to say a person that you'd say, 'Are you out of your cotton-picking mind, Olds? Why this guy? I always thought of him as this or this or this.'"

"I did this with some of the top people in the country, that is people who are always and conventionally thought of in a particular role. I recommended them in other, different roles. . .

"You know Whitehead (Alfred North Whitehead, mathematician and philosopher) once said that ideas are like fish; you catch them fresh or they stink . . . You get a man habituated to a field, he goes stale.

Olds is 47, his brown suit has a natty cut, his sideburns are modishly long and his entry in Who's Who carries an even longer list of academic credits, including a doctor of divinity from Willamette University and Ph. D. in philosophy from Yale. He is author of "The Christian Corrective to the Campus Confusion."

Nevertheless, "I'm an Oregon farm boy so my orientation is both earthy and practical," said Olds.

When he was at Springfield, the late President John F. Kennedy was on the college board "and I was involved in helping to get the Peace Corps going." He also helped Sargent Shriver set up Vista.

How did he become Nixon's talent scout? "I backed into this thing," he said, by writing a memorandum on a new foreign policy strategy which was shown to Nixon by a mutual friend.

Thus he became Nixon's special assistant for manpower and development with a "clear understanding" between them. Said Olds:

"Mr. Nixon said, 'Glenn, I don't want you to be concerned with political partisanship and so on, there'll be enough people involved in the campaign that will be concerned about those things. I want you to be concerned with competence and the quality of the input, both in people and of ideas.' I've operated totally on that basis."

When he started out last summer, Olds said, "I took the spectrum of presidential responsibilities and reduced them to six broad categories—foreign affairs, domestic affairs, economical affairs, justice, law and order, health education and welfare, and finally administration."

Then, he took the three levels of executive function dealing with these six categories—the cabinet offices, the executive office of the President, and the independent agencies and commissions.

Olds next identified those considered to be the top ten people in each of the six categories.

In foreign affairs, for instance, he had to learn "Who are the specialists . . . who are the generalists. In other words, who would make a secretary of state; who would make a good aide.

To back up his own judgment he was looking for "convergence."

He found it when ten of the top people in a field mention the same men for the same job.

In his reports to Nixon, Olds sometimes was explicit; but "more generally," Olds said "I would say this is the issue or area where this person is an expert and he would be good for a staff person as a specialist. Or he's a political leader or generalist. He wouldn't take a staff position but he'd be an excellent consultant or he would be good in the administration."

All in all, Olds said, he talked with 1,500 persons—650 in face-to-face interviews, the others on the telephone.

"I've been working for seven months, seven days a week, 20 hours a day."

The people he talked to, he said, "know that I'm doing this out of a deep conviction that if we don't get some of these problems solved we'll either blow this thing up or we'll go down the drain like Rome or Greece . . . and these problems don't wear a partisan face."

Incident In Viet War Described

Dang Van Phuoc, a Vietnamese photographer employed by The Associated Press, was accompanying the U.S. Marines on an operation south of Da Nang Thursday when three Vietnamese trapped in a bunker refused to come out. Because he spoke the language, the photographer acted as interpreter. Here is his report.

By DAN VAN PHUOC

DIEN BAN, Vietnam (AP) — The North Vietnamese had fought hard, but now the advancing American Marines had trapped them in their bunkers, and they were afraid.

"If I come out, will they shoot me?" One of the men in the bunker asked.

"If you come out with your hands up, they won't kill you," I told him. "But you must not have anything in your hands. If they see you have a grenade or a gun, they will shoot."

It was the 16th day of Operation Meade River, a massive allied operation to trap enemy troops in one of their favorite operating areas, and this was the hard part.

The operation area now covered an area of less than two square miles, mostly open land honeycombed with natural and man-made hiding places. Many of the bunkers had been here for years, and some were almost untouched by the pounding of artillery and air strikes that had preceded the Marines' advance.

There was little firing as the men of the 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines moved forward to root out the remaining enemy from the territory inside the horseshoe bend of a small river near the village of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

There was a report that 60 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had escaped through the inner cordon and were trying to get away to the west or north, where another line of Marines was in position.

But here the immediate concern was the slow, dangerous job of checking the bunkers one by one. Bombs and shells had collapsed the roofs of some. Many were empty. Others had only dead in them.

A Marine, his revolver in hand, squeezed into the entrance of one bunker, then reappeared.

"There's two in there," he said. "They won't come out."

I went forward and crawled into the hole.

The first man came out, his empty hands stretched out before him. Two others followed, another North Vietnamese and a 16-year-old girl who said she was Viet Cong.

All three were wounded slightly and had not eaten for two days. The first soldier, who identified himself as a messenger, said that when they rest of the unit pulled out, they took along the weapons of the ones who stayed behind.

About 150 yards away, the Marines had found another bunker—a huge affair that yielded one prisoner, a North Vietnamese lieutenant. He said he had been on the staff of a battalion which used the big bunker as its command post.

The lieutenant said that while he had been in South Vietnam for six months, most of the men in his unit were new.

"But they are very tired from the fighting and the bombing all the time," he said, speaking calmly in a low voice, "and I am very tired, too. I do not want to go on."

Rebel Priest In Hiding; Ousted From His Parish

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Don Enzo Mazzi, rebel priest and hero to the Florentine poor, was in hiding today after being dismissed from his parish Thursday. But his parishioners held the key to the church and were setting up a revolution promotion center next door.

Two other Florentine priests expected expulsion from their duties in the bitter dispute between Don Mazzi and his working-class flock on one side and Ermenegildo Cardinal Florit, the archbishop of Florence on the other.

The priests were Don Sergio Caciolli, a pastor in one of Florence's poorest districts and a close associate of Don Mazzi's, and Don Paolo Gomiti, 28, Don Mazzi's assistant.

"It's my turn now," said Don Caciolli Thursday night. "I've been waiting for it for years. I knew it was coming as soon as Don Mazzi was fired."

Don Mazzi was hidden in a private house while his parishioners continued to control the church of Mary of the Graces in the Isolotto district.

They scheduled meetings through Saturday night to decide what stand to take against the archbishop. In rooms adjoining the church parishioners were making posters and turning out mimeographed bulletins.

Don Mazzi had been their pastor 14 years. For the last 10 years he and his associates had been writing a children's catechism that made Cardinal Florit bristle and sent shock waves into the Vatican.

The just-published catechism depicts Christ as a revolutionary leading the poor against the privileged and wealthy. The cardinal censured the catechism and forbade his priests to use it. Don Mazzi said the cardinal told him: "Resign or I'll fire you." The priest made no move to resign, and on Thursday his dismissal was announced.

Pupils in two elementary schools walked out of classes in protest. They had their teachers' approval. Thousands of Don Mazzi's parishioners, including many cripples, marched in silence across the Arno and massed outside the cardinal's residence, waving placards demanding that he restore Don Mazzi to them.

The Vatican newspaper upheld the dismissal and called it a sad but predictable end to the episode. "Meetings, yes; discussion, yes," said L'Osservatore Romano. "But at a certain point one must recognize the rule of the legitimate pastor.

"No one contests the good intentions of this tenacious priest. But obedience to a bishop is always the boundary in every clerical or lay activity."

Hearings Due On 3 Charges

Municipal Court hearings are due Wednesday morning for Alfred Higgins, 34, of 770 Dresden Ave., cited by police on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident and public intoxication.

Arraigned yesterday before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Higgins requested a continuance to allow time for him to obtain counsel. He also indicated he will request a jury trial.

The court set appearance bonds totaling $635—$500 on the drunken driving charge, $100 on the hit-skip allegation and $35 on the intoxication count.

Police said Higgins was cited after his auto veered off St. Clair Ave. 55 feet north of Walnut St. Thursday at 12:58 a.m. and struck an Ohio Power Co. pole and a city - owned "no parking" sign. Higgins told police he did not know how the crash occurred.

The defendant was operating a 1965 sedan owned by Ralph Jackson of 165 Vernia St., officers said.

The Copts of Egypt are direct descendants of the ancient Egyptians but today are hardly distinguishable from the population of Arab origin.

Nixon's Talent Scout

Doctor Of Divinity Once Graded Potatoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief talent scout for the Nixon administration's first team is a doctor of divinity who once graded potatoes and now grades potential secretaries of state.

And Dr. Glenn A. Olds doesn't think the best potatoes or men necessarily come in neat rounded packages.

Olds, former president of Massachusetts' Springfield College, spent seven months interviewing 1,500 persons—sizing them up as possible cabinet secretaries, advisers, administrators and consultants for Richard M. Nixon.

As Nixon and his advisers go through the process of selecting the men to replace Johnson administration appointees, they are working with Olds' scouting report. There is a folder for each major appointive position open to the President-elect with cross references.

In studying them, Nixon will find some surprises.

Olds, who declined to name names in an interview, said he recommended some of the top men in the country for roles that might be considered unusual—under the theory square pegs get stale in square holes.

"I used to run a potato sorter and I just don't believe that all the best meat comes from this round package," said Olds, his fingers shaping a circle.

"In fact, I have a little suspicion of the well-rounded man with the short-radius. I think we need angularity. We need creativity."

Thus in making recommendations to Nixon he included one group "my staff cozily calls the Oldsian Category . . .

"In that category I recommend always someone like this —that is to say a person that you'd say, 'Are you out of your cotton-picking mind, Olds? Why this guy? I always thought of him as this or this or this.'"

"I did this with some of the top people in the country, that is people who are always and conventionally thought of in a particular role. I recommended them in other, different roles. . .

"You know Whitehead (Alfred North Whitehead, mathematician and philosopher) once said that ideas are like fish; you catch them fresh or they stink . . . You get a man habituated to a field, he goes stale.

Olds is 47, his brown suit has a natty cut, his sideburns are modishly long and his entry in Who's Who carries an even longer list of academic credits, including a doctor of divinity from Willamette University and Ph. D. in philosophy from Yale. He is author of "The Christian Corrective to the Campus Confusion."

Nevertheless, "I'm an Oregon farm boy so my orientation is both earthy and practical," said Olds.

When he was at Springfield, the late President John F. Kennedy was on the college board "and I was involved in helping to get the Peace Corps going." He also helped Sargent Shriver set up Vista.

How did he become Nixon's talent scout? "I backed into this thing," he said, by writing a memorandum on a new foreign policy strategy which was shown to Nixon by a mutual friend.

Thus he became Nixon's special assistant for manpower and development with a "clear understanding" between them. Said Olds:

"Mr. Nixon said, 'Glenn, I don't want you to be concerned with political partisanship and so on, there'll be enough people involved in the campaign that will be concerned about those things. I want you to be concerned with competence and the quality of the input, both in people and of ideas.' I've operated totally on that basis."

When he started out last summer, Olds said, "I took the spectrum of presidential responsibilities and reduced them to six broad categories—foreign affairs, domestic affairs, economical affairs, justice, law and order, health education and welfare, and finally administration."

Then, he took the three levels of executive function dealing with these six categories—the cabinet offices, the executive office of the President, and the independent agencies and commissions.

Olds next identified those considered to be the top ten people in each of the six categories.

In foreign affairs, for instance, he had to learn "Who are the specialists . . . who are the generalists. In other words, who would make a secretary of state; who would make a good aide.

To back up his own judgment he was looking for "convergence."

He found it when ten of the top people in a field mention the same men for the same job.

In his reports to Nixon, Olds sometimes was explicit; but "more generally," Olds said "I would say this is the issue or area where this person is an expert and he would be good for a staff person as a specialist. Or he's a political leader or generalist. He wouldn't take a staff position but he'd be an excellent consultant or he would be good in the administration."

All in all, Olds said, he talked with 1,500 persons—650 in face-to-face interviews, the others on the telephone.

"I've been working for seven months, seven days a week, 20 hours a day."

The people he talked to, he said, "know that I'm doing this out of a deep conviction that if we don't get some of these problems solved we'll either blow this thing up or we'll go down the drain like Rome or Greece . . . and these problems don't wear a partisan face."

Incident In Viet War Described

Dang Van Phuoc, a Vietnamese photographer employed by The Associated Press, was accompanying the U.S. Marines on an operation south of Da Nang Thursday when three Vietnamese trapped in a bunker refused to come out. Because he spoke the language, the photographer acted as interpreter. Here is his report.

By DAN VAN PHUOC

DIEN BAN, Vietnam (AP) — The North Vietnamese had fought hard, but now the advancing American Marines had trapped them in their bunkers, and they were afraid.

"If I come out, will they shoot me?" One of the men in the bunker asked.

"If you come out with your hands up, they won't kill you," I told him. "But you must not have anything in your hands. If they see you have a grenade or a gun, they will shoot."

It was the 16th day of Operation Meade River, a massive allied operation to trap enemy troops in one of their favorite operating areas, and this was the hard part.

The operation area now covered an area of less than two square miles, mostly open land honeycombed with natural and man-made hiding places. Many of the bunkers had been here for years, and some were almost untouched by the pounding of artillery and air strikes that had preceded the Marines' advance.

There was little firing as the men of the 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines moved forward to root out the remaining enemy from the territory inside the horseshoe bend of a small river near the village of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

There was a report that 60 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had escaped through the inner cordon and were trying to get away to the west or north, where another line of Marines was in position.

But here the immediate concern was the slow, dangerous job of checking the bunkers one by one. Bombs and shells had collapsed the roofs of some. Many were empty. Others had only dead in them.

A Marine, his revolver in hand, squeezed into the entrance of one bunker, then reappeared.

"There's two in there," he said. "They won't come out."

I went forward and crawled into the hole.

The first man came out, his empty hands stretched out before him. Two others followed, another North Vietnamese and a 16-year-old girl who said she was Viet Cong.

All three were wounded slightly and had not eaten for two days. The first soldier, who identified himself as a messenger, said that when they rest of the unit pulled out, they took along the weapons of the ones who stayed behind.

About 150 yards away, the Marines had found another bunker—a huge affair that yielded one prisoner, a North Vietnamese lieutenant. He said he had been on the staff of a battalion which used the big bunker as its command post.

The lieutenant said that while he had been in South Vietnam for six months, most of the men in his unit were new.

"But they are very tired from the fighting and the bombing all the time," he said, speaking calmly in a low voice, "and I am very tired, too. I do not want to go on."

Rebel Priest In Hiding; Ousted From His Parish

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Don Enzo Mazzi, rebel priest and hero to the Florentine poor, was in hiding today after being dismissed from his parish Thursday. But his parishioners held the key to the church and were setting up a revolution promotion center next door.

Two other Florentine priests expected expulsion from their duties in the bitter dispute between Don Mazzi and his working-class flock on one side and Ermenegildo Cardinal Florit, the archbishop of Florence on the other.

The priests were Don Sergio Caciolli, a pastor in one of Florence's poorest districts and a close associate of Don Mazzi's, and Don Paolo Gomiti, 28, Don Mazzi's assistant.

"It's my turn now," said Don Caciolli Thursday night. "I've been waiting for it for years. I knew it was coming as soon as Don Mazzi was fired."

Don Mazzi was hidden in a private house while his parishioners continued to control the church of Mary of the Graces in the Isolotto district.

They scheduled meetings through Saturday night to decide what stand to take against the archbishop. In rooms adjoining the church parishioners were making posters and turning out mimeographed bulletins.

Don Mazzi had been their pastor 14 years. For the last 10 years he and his associates had been writing a children's catechism that made Cardinal Florit bristle and sent shock waves into the Vatican.

The just-published catechism depicts Christ as a revolutionary leading the poor against the privileged and wealthy. The cardinal censured the catechism and forbade his priests to use it. Don Mazzi said the cardinal told him: "Resign or I'll fire you." The priest made no move to resign, and on Thursday his dismissal was announced.

Pupils in two elementary schools walked out of classes in protest. They had their teachers' approval. Thousands of Don Mazzi's parishioners, including many cripples, marched in silence across the Arno and massed outside the cardinal's residence, waving placards demanding that he restore Don Mazzi to them.

The Vatican newspaper upheld the dismissal and called it a sad but predictable end to the episode. "Meetings, yes; discussion, yes," said L'Osservatore Romano. "But at a certain point one must recognize the rule of the legitimate pastor.

"No one contests the good intentions of this tenacious priest. But obedience to a bishop is always the boundary in every clerical or lay activity."

WHICH?

COLLEGE ST. Double brick house, three rooms and bath on each side, good roof, very little painting—one side rented, the other needs a little work done on it. Really low priced at $2,300.

655 BRADSHAW AVE. Good family home downtown, three large bedrooms, aluminum siding, good roof, new gas furnace, corner lot. Transferred owner will sell for $7,500, easy financing.

1135 OHIO AVE. Old on the outside, new inside — even newly plastered, new birch kitchen, gas furnace, modern bath — really shines, has garage too. Just a renewed older home that makes a nice impression at $9,500.

WHICH?

COLLEGE ST. Double brick house, three rooms and bath on each side, good roof, very little painting—one side rented, the other needs a little work done on it. Really low priced at $2,300.

655 BRADSHAW AVE. Good family home downtown, three large bedrooms, aluminum siding, good roof, new gas furnace, corner lot. Transferred owner will sell for $7,500, easy financing.

1135 OHIO AVE. Old on the outside, new inside — even newly plastered, new birch kitchen, gas furnace, modern bath — really shines, has garage too. Just a renewed older home that makes a nice impression at $9,500.

Junior Editors Quiz on CIVILIZATION

QUESTION: How did civilization begin?

* * * *

ANSWER: About 6000 B.C., certain tribes in Mesopotamia discovered that it was possible to plant the seeds of wild grain and raise enough food to last the year around. These first farmers built villages of mud huts and started to domesticate animals. Later, they moved down to the banks of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. There, conditions were harsh, for the rivers either flooded the land or the earth baked hard in the fierce sun. But these energetic peoples banked up the river edges in flood time and dug ditches to carry the water when it was dry. Plows were invented for their newly domesticated animals to draw. Our picture shows these conditions about 4000 B.C. The villages grew into cities and, by 3000 B.C., the brilliant Sumerian civilization was underway. Similar conditions and discoveries led to the growth of three other cradles of civilization. One was on the Nile river, in Egypt. This led to many remarkable developments. Another was the civilization of the Indus Valley in India, and still another resulted from developments along the Hwang Ho Valley of China.

(Al Hamilton of Easley, S. C., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Dec. 6, the 341st day of 1968. There are 25 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, some 1,600 persons were killed and 4,000 wounded when two ammunition ships — one Belgian, the other French — collided in the harbor at Halifax, N.S.

On this date:

In 1492, Haiti was discovered by Christopher Columbus.

In 1889, the Southern leader who had been president of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, died in New Orleans.

In 1917, Finland declared independence from Russia during World War I.

In 1938, Germany and France signed a nonaggression pact.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt made a personal appeal for peace to Emperor Hirohito of Japan. The attack against Pearl Harbor came the next day.

In 1944, U.S. Third Army troops were moving across the Saar River in Germany at three crossing points.

ANN LANDERS

A Gleesome Threesome?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is friendly with a couple of men he works with. Their wives are not the type I would pick for friends on my own. Every Friday evening we have a set date. The six of us go out to dinner and we end up at a little cocktail lounge that has music.

The men drink beer and talk business the whole time. The wives of these two men dance with each other. I sit because I don't like to dance with a woman. I think it looks peculiar.

Furthermore, men they never saw before cut in on them on the dance floor and they end up dancing with strangers. They say it's okay because their husbands are present. What do you say? — SQUARE PEG.

-:-

Dear Peg: I say the whole thing smells like a lost barrel of herring. Haven't you people got homes? Why sit in taverns? You need some new friends and I hope you find them soon and break up this gleesome threesome.

Nice People

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is 18. She was graduated from high school in June and is taking a secretarial course. Thelma has been dating a divinity student. He is 20 and shares an apartment with two other divinity students. We all like Jerome because he seems more settled than most of the young men Thelma has dated.

Last night I understood Thelma to say she and Jerome were going to a party. I woke up at 4 a.m. with an uneasy feeling. I always feel better when I know Thelma is home, so I checked her bed. It had not been slept in. I was worried sick but decided not to waken my husband.

At 6:25 a.m. Thelma came tiptoeing into the house, carrying her shoes. I gave her a long, hard look but said nothing. My husband did not wake up and he doesn't know about this.

My question is: Do parents have a right to tell an 18-year-old girl when to be in? She does not pay room and board. We are putting her through secretarial school. She has had no curfew since high school graduation. I'm opposed to a girl coming in from a date at that hour of the night. Am I wrong? — L.L.L.

-:-

Dear L.L.L.: That "hour of the night" is not night, Lady. It's morning.

No 18-year-old girl should be allowed to stay out until dawn. Your silence was condonation.

Have a talk with Thelma. Tell her she cannot come and go as if she lived in a hotel. Midnight is plenty late for a secretarial school student (to say nothing of a divinity student). And 2 a.m. is a reasonable, respectable hour for weekends.

Confidentially

To Sorry I Said It: Being sorry does not help the situation. Go in person to A and B and apologize. Write to C and D and tell them you were mistaken. And next time, be sure your brain is engaged before you put your mouth in gear.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reports Conflict On Safety

Officials Continue Probe In W. Va. Mine Disaster

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)— Federal and state officials continued a preliminary probe today into the Mannington coal mine explosion and fire which took 78 lives amid conflicting reports of the mine's safety.

The West Virginia Department of Mines, the U.S. Bureau of Mines, officials of Consolidation Coal Co., and representatives of the United Mine Workers union held the two-day meeting into the causes of the disaster at Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine where the 78 miners are entombed and presumed dead.

Walter Slovekosky of nearby Monongah, one of the 21 men who escaped after the first blast on Nov. 20, spent six of his 32 years as a miner in No. 9. He told the panel Thursday some mine safety procedures were either ignored or there wasn't always time to execute safety routines.

ROCK-DUSTING, a procedure to minimize floating coal dust which often is highly combustible, was not thorough, Slovekosky said, and mine foremen often did not "have time to make sure" their sections were safe.

"I hope that those 78 men, most of them close personal friends, did not die in vain," Slovekosky said. "That's why I'm speaking out.

Lewis Evans, safety inspector for the miners' union, quizzed Slovekosky about safety practices in No. 9 prior to the explosion which triggered a fire in the mine and turned its deep pits into an inferno.

"They only dusted straight up and down the main lne." Slovekosky said of the rock-dusting, and "I thought they should dust the headings, the parallels and the cross entries, too. They looked pretty black. I thought they should be more thorough. I guess they didn't have time."

WESTERN sections of No. 9, hardest hit by the first blast and the 15 subsequent explosions over a nine - day span, had "entirely too much" floating coal dust, Slovekosky said.

"You couldn't hardly see at all," he said of conditions in those sections of the mine days before the explosion.

He said section bosses—each of whom supervises a work crew — had too many duties to devote enough time to safety factors.

"A section boss' duties are a lot more than he can take care of," he said. "Although they have safety at heart, it's just not something he can look at continuously. A lot of bosses don't have time."

SLOVEKOSKY also criticized emergency procedures and said "there's no system to get the men out" in the event of trouble.

He said the company might "see fit to hold it against me for telling the truth. . .but we owe it to the men that died. We owe it to their families, we owe it to other miners and especially we owe it to ourselves."

The sprawling mine was sealed on Nov. 29, nine days after the first explosion, after rescue attempts to reach the trapped men failed and when samples sucked from the deep tunnels showed high concentrations of carbon monoxide and methane gas.

Court Income Drops $1,212

Municipal Court revenue hit $5,795 in November, a decline of $1,212 from the $7,007 in October, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city treasury received $5,065 out of the November receipts, a drop of $1,124 from the $6,189 the municipality was paid out of October income.

The city's share of the revenue was comprised of $399 in costs from civil cases, $4,314 from fines, costs and forfeitures in criminal cases and $351 from penalties resulting from Ohio Highway Patrol citations.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $351 to the state treasury, $276 to the county treasury, $10 to Liverpool Township and $93.50 to the Law Library Association.

A $1,101 decline in both criminal and civil revenue helped account for the drop in court receipts between October and November. The criminal receipts were off $927 from the $5,241 in October, while costs in civil cases were down $174 from the $573 in October.

The total amount handled by the court hit $11,102 in November, off $573 from the $11,675 in the preceding month. The sums handled by the court last month included $4,896 in the civil branch and $6,205 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 31 civil cases filed in November, 24 disposed of and 183 pending; 14 small claims cases filed, 5 disposed of and 29 pending;; 79 city criminal cases file 93 disposed of and 95 pending, and 100 state criminal cases filed, 87 disposed of and 105 pending.

Join our Christmas Club
and get two free gifts

Our first gift is unique among area Christmas clubs. You pay the first 49 weeks and we give you the last one free! You can't beat it.

Our second gift is the lovely Angel Candle pictured below. This tall, graceful holder has stained glass colors through which a pine-scented candle shines with gem-like beauty. Included is an ingenious match holder for safe, easy lighting.
